And Now—The Movies?

Mrs. Harold Dahl

This is the story of a picture of a pretty woman, Mrs. Harold E. Dahl. She is the wife of a Champaign, Ill., aviator who flew for the Loyalist forces in Spain and was captured. First the picture was credited, then discredited, with saving the life of her husband, captured by the Insurgents. Now a Hollywood movie company has seen the picture as shown above and plans to take screen tests of Mrs. Dahl. Meanwhile, Mrs. Dahl's husband awaits courtmartial October 5 in Spain.

PA NEVC OBSERVES

During the summer the trailer traffic through New Cas has been northward, but during the past week a number of trailers has been seen heading south. Pretty soon the roads will be cluttered with these houses on wheels, all head in the same direction. Latest estimates are that there are over 2500 trailers constantly in use in the United States, housing a population of around one million persons. It is claimed that the number has increased ten fold in two years.

Justice Black To Give Defense In Big Hook-Up

Supreme Court Justice To Speak To Nation On Air At 9:30 Tonight

BLACK SILENT ON SPEECH CONTENTS

Various Surmises Made As To His Possible Remarks On Klan Charges

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—An amazing and unprecedented chapter in American history will be written tonight when Supreme Court Justice Hugo LaFayette Black defends his right to take his seat on the nation's highest tribunal.

Justice Black will address one of the greatest radio audiences in history over all major networks between 9:30 and 10 p.m. Eastern Standard Time tonight.

Chief Question

The question which hung on the lips of Washington officialdom as the "zero hour" neared was:

Will Justice Black admit that he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan in Alabama or that he holds an unrenounced life membership?

Justice Black himself cloaked his plans in secrecy. Political associates differed in their predictions.

Kidnaping Case 'Break' Is Likely

Renewed Activity At Ross Home Seems To Forecast Some Developments

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Renewed activity at the home of Charles S. Ross today led to the belief that a "break" in the strange kidnaping case might occur shortly.

Investigators, however, denied that any contact had been established with the abductors of the 71-year-old retired manufacturer.

The mystery in the case deepened when Mrs. Genevieve Bowey, a relative of Mrs. Ross, emerged from the apartment after a brief visit and stood in a vacant lot nearby exchanging signals with Mrs. Ross at the window.

The window commanded a large section of the neighborhood and it was considered that the two were rehearsing possible communications with the kidnapers.

One of the lesser officers assigned to the investigation openly declared important developments were expected shortly and Capt. Daniel Gilbert, head of the state's attorney's force, said:

"It is logical to expect contact any time now. Our lines are being tightened."

Liner Leviathan Will Be Scrapped

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The famous old liner Leviathan, which as the most important transport of the American army carried nearly 100,000 members of the A. E. F. to France, today was consigned to the scrap heap.

Rejecting a score of proposals that would keep the former queen of the seas in service, the United States Lines announced bids would be asked today in the United States and foreign countries for the scrapping of the liner. She has been tied up since September, 1934, at a pier in Hoboken, N. J.

LENINGRAD, U. S. S. R., Oct. 1.—Sixteen counter-revolutionaries, charged with "preparing terrorist acts against Soviet leaders," were executed here today.

Moscow, Oct. 1.—Five more death sentences and 19 new executions were reported today as the Soviet drive against "wreckers" drove relentlessly forward.

Will Dedicate New Convent At St. Vitus Church On Sunday

With the utmost solemnity, the newly constructed St. Vitus convent, one of the most beautiful institutions of its kind in the district, will be blessed and dedicated on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor, announced today.

The ceremony will culminate a dream of many years for the energetic pastor of the south side church. Throughout these years, the Rev. Fr. DeMita has looked forward to erecting a convent and bringing sisters to this city for the purpose of doing missionary work and teaching the Christian Doctrine among Italian families. Four sisters from New Haven, Conn., who will occupy the institution, arrived Thursday afternoon and were immensely pleased with their new home.

Sisters Arrive.

From now on, the sisters will spend numerous hours daily among the young and old members of Italian families. Children throughout the city will be divided in such a manner so that every group receives instructions three times a week. The

Report Thousands Die In Shanghai Battle

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Oct. 1.—Thousands of Japanese and Chinese troops were reported killed and wounded today as they battled back and forth at Lotien in the fiercest engagement of the entire Shanghai war.

The fighting raged over a rain-soaked terrain a few miles northwest of here as Japanese forces furiously tried to surround and annihilate large concentrations of Chinese troops.

Claim Defense Holds

Chinese officials claimed their main defense lines remained intact in the face of the wild Japanese onslaught, in which artillery roared and troops locked in deadly hand-to-hand combat.

Chinese troop concentrations stationed at Liuho, near Lotien, were the chief objective of the Japanese attacks.

The defending troops made their stand along the Lotien front and

Tap Rooms Are Being Checked

Too Many High School Boys And Girls Are Frequenting Beer Parlors

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—The State Liquor Control board moved today to stamp out premises where liquor and beer are sold to high school boys and girls.

Expressing "little hope" that the restaurants, soda fountains, and tap rooms will give up their licenses on their own accord, the board announced it will institute proceedings against them immediately.

The board has the authority to revoke licenses, with no court appeal permissable.

A survey of the state for a list of such gathering places for high school youths has been completed virtually, the board said, and citations will be directed against them immediately unless the licenses are surrendered voluntarily.

Denies Charges He Killed Man With His Auto

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—Dr. Vincent L. Marino, defeated for the Democratic nomination for coroner last September 14, today entered an emphatic denial to involuntary manslaughter charges lodged by State police against him.

Police said the charges arose from the death last Sunday of George W. Prye, killed by an automobile on the Lincoln highway near Greensburg. Marino, released on $2,500 bond, was quoted by police as explaining he found the man lying on the highway while driving and took his body to the Greensburg State police barracks. Subsequently, Marino was arrested.

Bring War Back To Madrid Gates

Insurgents Make Series Of Attacks On Nearby Battlefields

(International News Service)

MADRID, Oct. 1.—Spain's insurgents ushered in the month of October today by bringing the civil war back to the gates of the nation's capital in a slashing series of attacks which left nearby battle fields strewn with dead.

The renewed onslaught in this aera marked the first serious military activity on Madrid's fronts in two months.

Rebel forces launched violent attacks against the Basuerero sector in an attempt to gain a hill at El Basuero which dominates the important Madrid suburb of Usera.

Fighting desperately to stem the insurgents, Loyalists exploded five mines in the path of their foes. Casualties were believed heavy.

Rebel troops also attacked the government lines at Quijorna, it was stated, but were "obliged to withdraw," leaving many of their dead on the field.

Bar Association Leaves Black's Case Without Action

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 1.—The resolutions committee of the American Bar association announced today that no resolution concerning justice Hugo L. Black would be forthcoming.

Climaxing a bitterly fought controversy during which Black's name and his alleged klan connections were frequently mentioned, this action was believed to have finally stifled the measure.

The question may still be brought up by some member from the floor but it will have to be referred again to the resolutions committee which would probably have insufficient time for consideration before the close of the convention, even should it reverse its present stand on the matter.

Suicide Reveals Triple Tragedy

Find Mother And Brother Dead After Girl's Suicide Is Discovered

CRIMES OCCUR IN YPSILANTI, MICH.

(International News Service)

YPSILANTI, Mich., Oct. 1.—Less than 24 hours after Ruth Brodie McHenry, beautiful 23-year-old Detroit social registrite committed suicide in her home there, police today found her mother and a seven-year-old brother shot to death in a parked automomible on a lonely country road, near here.

Ypsilanti police, in reconstructing the crime, expressed belief that Miss McHenry, daughter of a prominent Dertoit attorney, had shot and killed her mother and brother and then drove to her home and turned the gun on herself.

Police were baffled in an attempt to find a motive for the girl's strange acts.

According to police, the mother Mrs. James McHenry, and the boy, James, Jr., 7, had been dead for nearly 24 hours.

The car in which they were found was seen parked by the road early

Install Equipment For Broadcast By Justice Black

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The broadcasting companies over whose networks the address of Supreme Court Justice Black will be heard tonight aren't taking any chances of "muffing" their big broadcast.

Immediately after Justice Black revealed his intention of speaking from the home of his friend, Claude E. Hamilton, Jr., general counsel of the RFC., Keith Williams, crack National Broadcasting company engineer, rushed an engineering crew to the Hamilton home.

There they began installation of "duplicate" equipment, a procedure heretofore employed only when the president of the United States has broadcasted.

This operations entails setting up "two of everything,"—two microphones, two amplifiers, and two lines. It precludes any interruption by reason of mechanical failure.

TAPROOMS MAY LOSE LICENSES

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—An estimated 700 to 1,000 Philadelphia taprooms today was threatened with revocation of their licenses as a result of the disclosure by Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board investigators that they have countenanced race horse gambling.

Evidence of the operations of gamblers was turned over to the grand jury probing charges into gambling and crime, the investigators pointed out.

The Liquor Control Board, it was said, is debating whether to demand immediate revocation of the licenses already issued for 1937 or to refuse to grant new licenses for 1938.

WILL MAKE PLANS FOR DEDICATION OF AIRPORT

New Castle's splendid new airport, located at Parkstown Corners, on route 422, will be ready for dedication some time near the middle of November, it was announced today by Walter N. Todd, branch manager of the Works Progress Administration.

The fine limestone, known as "choke", is being rolled into the stone runways today, and on October 5 the amiesite spreader will be on the ground ready for use. Approximately 500 tons of amiesite can be rolled on per day, and the total to be used is 6,000 tons. Barring bad weather or anything unforeseen, the port should be completed by November 1, Mr. Todd said.

Council Plans Dedication

Apprised of the fact that the port would be ready for dedication soon, Mayor Charles E. McGrath said: "We are delighted that it will soon be ready for use. Both city coun-

Yacht Endeavour Reaches England

Reaches Gosport, England And Is Given Tremendous Ovation, By Citizenry

(International News Service)

GOSPORT, Eng., Oct. 1—The sailing sloop Endeavour I arrived at Gosport today, towed by the yacht Viva II, after a dramatic passage across the Atlantic ocean during which its skipper, Capt. Ned Heard, was hurled into the raging sea while the Endeavour tossed helplessly in a hurricane.

Bands played and sirens blared as the yacht, which had been reported missing at sea for more than two weeks was escorted to its mooring.

The entire town and harbor were bedecked with flags and bunting to celebrate the safe arrival of the former America's cup contender, which was cast adrift 300 miles off the New England coast when the towline by which the Viva II was hauling it back to England from the United States snapped.

Japan's Reply To U. S. Protest Not Acceptable

Japan's "Justification" Of Air Raids On Civilians Is Rejected By U. S.

U. S. Throws Moral Influence Against Attacks On Defenseless Civilians

By ROBERT G. NIXON

(Copyright, 1937)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The United States today emphatically rejected Japan's "justification" of its air raids on China's defenseless civilian non-combatants.

The American government, determined to throw its full moral weight against what it considers flagrant violation of civilized conduct, holds:

1. Air raids on cities are "unwarranted and contrary to principles of law and of humanity."

2. Regardless of Japan's repeated assurances she is attacking purely military objectives, if civilians reside in the areas "no amount of solicitude. . . is effective toward assuring the safety of any persons or any property within the area of such operations.

3. The American government can not, under any circumstance, countenance continuance of bombing attacks on defenseless civilians.

This adamant stand, International News Service learned, has been communicated to the Japanese government through its ambassador to Washington, Hirosi Saito.

Possible Courses

If their discriminate aerial bombing raids on non-combatants continue, as indicated by Japan's curt reply to the vigorous American protests these possibilities were contemplated:

1. Invocation of the neutrality act, officially bringing the Sino-Japanese conflict into the open.

2. Dispatch of a new and more emphatic diplomatic note to Tokyo.

President Starts Homeward Trip

Ready To Leave Western Coast

Plans To Tune In On Address By Justice Black This Evening

SPENDS NIGHT IN MOUNTAIN CAMP

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LAKE CRESCENT, Wash., Oct. 1—President Roosevelt turned back home on his cross-country "pulse feeling" tour today after a restful night amid the mountain grandeur in this remote corner of the United States.

The weather held the key to the itinerary of the president and his party today. A heavy rain which started last night may force cancellation of a planned automobile trip down the 200-mile Olympic peninsula to Tacoma.

If such is the case, the president will reboard the destroyer U. S. S. Phelps which yesterday took him on a brief visit across the border to Victoria, B. C.

No Comment On Black.

It was reported that White House aides were willing enough to have the motor trip abandoned to forestall any chance mishap which might keep the president from tuning in on the radio speech of Supreme Court Justice Black tonight.

It was said the car he would use is not equipped with a radio and an unforeseen delay might prevent the president from getting back to Tacoma in time.

The president was aboard the Phelps yesterday when the word was received over the navy radio that Justice Black would make his unprecedented talk. No official comment was made, however.

The rain last night somewhat dampened the holiday spirits of the presidential party, some of whom were forced to put up for the night in tiny cabins when the hotel accommodations were found inadequate.

The president, however, took advantage of the solitude to turn in early for a good rest after his strenuous day.

He dined with John D. Ross, security and exchange commissioner, expected to be named director of the Bonneville dam project, which the president inspected on his way west.

minimize the Klan issue, will defend President Roosevelt and will say that the allegations against him are a part and parcel of the fight on the president and the New Deal.

The speech of the justice is expected to require 20 minutes. It will be uncensored. A broadcasting company spokesman said that the usual rule that speeches must be submitted in advance will be waived.

Justice Black, slender and unassuming, was known in the senate for his biting sarcasm and his unsparing attack upon his critics. But since he has been made a jurist, he may choose a more temperate form of speech tonight.

Unprecedented Move

Never before has an appointee to the supreme court gone to the nation to prove that he is morally or legally qualified to decide the greatest constitutional issues.

Other justices have been attacked, both before and after appointment and confirmation by the senate. Justice Brandeis, eldest member of the court, won his confirmation after a bitter fight. Once he became a justice, he adopted an unswerving rule never to make statements or give interviews. He stuck to the rule even when General Hugh S. Johnson was quoted as saying that he had consulted the justice.

Chief Justice Hughes was also attacked when his name was submitted to the senate. He, too, steadfastly ignored the attacks.

Other justices of the high court refused to comment on the new precedent. Friends represented some of them as being surprised and pained at the plan of Justice Black.

Members of congress here refrained from commenting until after the justice makes his explanation.

"The only sensible thing to do is to await any statement the justice may make," said Senator Theodore Green (D) Rhode Island.

Justice Black, after a day of secret preparation, was said to have completed his speech, subject to revision. He and his wife still remained at the home of a relative near historic Alexander, Va.

The justice thus far had made no preparation for assumption of his duties on the supreme court next Monday. He apparently was making the most careful preparation of a speech that he has ever made during his long political career, casting aside temporarily all other problems.

cil and myself believe that such a splendid port should not be opened without some formal ceremonies, and a committee on dedication will be appointed Monday.

This committee will be small, with power to enlarge itself. Major Jack Morris, head of the aeronautics bureau of the state, will be contacted as to the definite date dedication can be held, and it is hoped that an air circus can be held in conjunction with the dedication.

Governor George H. Earle will be invited, famous fliers will be asked to come, and the United States War Department will be asked to participate in the dedication.

Plans today were just beginning, so that details were unavailable. Mayor McGrath will announce the chairman and the committee to handle the affair, and they will get to work immediately.

With wages in the building trades approaching the pre-depression levels, there appears to be a scarcity of mechanics in some lines, although much of the work this summer has been in the nature of repairs. It is worthy of note that few young men are learning trades, and the time may not be far distant when there will be a real shortage of artisans. There may be depressions, but a trade is a mighty good asset for a young man to have at any time.

sisters will also direct the St. Vitus girls' and boys' choirs, altar boys and will be instrumental in organizing the younger members of the church. The Rev. Fr. DeMita firmly believes that the new movement will result in the proper teaching to the younger generation of St. Vitus church.

Services Impressive.

The services arranged will be most impressive. At 3 o'clock the Blessed Sacrament will be taken in procession from the church to the convent. More than 1,000 persons are anticipated to participate in the procession. Various organizations of the church, altar boys, visiting priests, Sunday school children, sisters of St. Mary's, St. Joseph's, St. Philip and James, St. Michael's and Madonna churches and sisters of New Castle hospital will be present for the services.

The Rev. Fr. Beneventano of Braddock, the oldest Italian priest in the diocese, will be celebrant, the Rev. Fr. Falcone of Sharpsburg will be deacon, the Rev. Fr. Pirullo of Hillsville will act as sub-deacon, the Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito of Mahoningtown will serve in the capacity of master of ceremonies while the Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano of Ellwood City will deliver an appropriate sermon.

The most impressive part of the ceremonies will be the blessing of the neatly arranged chapel. The Most Reverend Bishop Boyle of Pittsburgh has delegated the Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, assisted by the Rev. Fr. S. F. Anuskiewicz, assistant pastor, to bless the chapel.

Building Beautiful.

The convent is the last word in completeness. Everything, from the basement to the top floor, has been furnished with the most modern conveniences permitted sisters. The 14 rooms are equipped elaborately throughout. The basement will be used as a classroom and meeting place for some of the organizations of the church. The convent is located in the rear of the church.

The completion of the new building, built at a cost of approximately $15,000, is another achievement for the Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, who since coming here in 1905 has elevated the prestige of the St. Vitus church highly throughout the diocese.

The history of Rev. Fr. DeMita dates back to 1903 when he arrived in Pittsburgh from Italy, for the purpose of doing missionary work. He was affiliated with the Pittsburgh Apostilate Missionary for two years, being among the first Italian priests in the district.

During those two years, the Rev. Fr. DeMita was instrumental in the founding of 13 new churches in the diocese, St. Vitus church being among the 13. In 1905 the Rev. Fr. DeMita was named as pastor of the local church

When assuming his new duties, the Rev. Fr. DeMita was given a difficult task. The Italian families were far from organized and the church was a small wooden structure purchased from a Methodist group. As a result of untiring efforts, the Rev. Fr. DeMita finally succeeded in organizing the Italian families here.

In 1906, the wooden structure was torn down and the present edifice was erected. Throughout these years the Rev. Fr. DeMita has continued his program of improving the institution, which ranks among the outstanding in the diocese. Only recently, the south side pastor completed a project calling for a vast improvement of the rectory. Aside from improving the present site, the Rev. Fr. DeMita purchased considerable more ground surrounding the church.

Today the St. Vitus church is valued at $150,000, including the convent.

The continuous progress of the south side church, with a congregation of 1,500 families, reflects in the direction of the Rev. Fr. DeMita.

JAPAN'S REPLY TO U. S. PROTESTS NOT ACCEPTABLE

king are necessary because it "is the most important strategic base of military operations for the Chinese forces," that the American protest reflects the "permanent American attitude."

Relief Over Situation

There was visible relief in state department circles, however, over the present situation in China, a relief that was reflected solely by one angle.

Japanese air raids on non-combatants areas, flagrant as they were at the beginning, have measurably diminished since the world wide outcry, implemented by the protests of the United States and five other world powers, was raised.

Recent air raids, according to official dispatches to the American government from the Chinese war zone, have been directed against specific military objectives.

It was believed that Japan, despite its stiff stand against the American protest, has heeded world opinion and may definitely carry out its promise to limit its military operations solely against military objectives.

Meanest Thief Robs Blind Cigar Man

High mass of requiem for the late Mrs. W. J. Gebhart, of the Mt. Jackson road, was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Doerr at 9:30 a. m., today in St. Joseph's church.

Pallbearers were Charles, Fred, Thomas and William Bartberger, Francis Baldauf and Michael Lohr. Interment was made in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mrs. Alexander Mervis.

Mrs. Anna Mervis, aged 52 years, wife of Alexander Mervis, of 130 East Leasure avenue, died Thursday night in a hospital at Pittsburgh after an illness of a few weeks' duration. She had been undergoing treatment in Pittsburgh since she was suddenly stricken while on a visit at Steubenville, O.

Mrs. Mervis, born in Petrograd, Russia, daughter of Maurice and Molly Weller Friedman, was a New Castle resident for many years and was one of the most highly respected citizens. She was a member of Tifereth Israel Synagogue, and one of its active workers. She was a member of the Ladies Aid and the Hadassah.

Surviving are her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Harry Nathanson, of Weirton, W. Va., Miss Sarah Mervis, branch librarian of the New Castle Public Library, and Miss Ruth Mervis, a school teacher at Weirton, one son, Maurice Mervis, of New Castle, one grandson, Sherman Nathanson, a brother, Louis Friedman and a sister, Mrs. B. Scherr, both of Baltimore, Md.

Services are being conducted at the residence this afternoon with Rabbi I. Bach, Rabbi Pinchos Katz and Rabbi Cecil Shenson officiating. Interment will follow in Tifereth Israel cemetery.

Adam Clark Ault.

Adam Clark Ault, 87-year-old lifetime resident of Big Beaver township, Lawrence county, died at his home this morning at about 10 o'clock.

Mr. Ault was born in the township, son of early residents, John C. and Catherine Ault, and he always lived there, a blacksmith by trade.

Surviving are, his wife, the following children, J. C. of East Palestine, O., W. H. of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Anna Evans of Cleveland, O., Mrs. Agnes Cox of Beaver Falls, Mrs. Cassie Fletcher of Shenango township, Mrs. Callie O'Hare of Sharpsville, James of Little Beaver township, Watt of Big Beaver township, Mrs. Sadie Hess of Lorain, O., Clark of Wampum, Arthur of New Castle, George of Freedom, Dean of West Bridgewater and Mrs. Margaret Dripps at home, thirty-nine grandchildren and twenty-three great-grandchildren.

Announcement of the funeral arrangements will be made in Saturday's News.

yesterday evening by County Clerk Emmett Gibbs.

He did not investigate at that time but on seeing it still parked there this morning informed police. Police found the bodies covered with a blanket.

McHenry was unable to offer any motive for his daughter's actions.

However, police learned that Miss McHenry had been under treatment by a psychiatrist recently. She also had been in ill health a year ago.

She had planned to enter the University of Michigan as a special student this fall. However, it was not learned whether she had actually registered or whether her request for entrance was turned down.

Where Primary Election Started

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—The primary election, now in use in every state, was said to have originated in Crawford county, Pennsylvania, in 1860.

Patterned after the general election, it came into being when residents of Crawford county decided it was just as easy, and an improvement on the old method, to cast ballots for candidates instead of for delegates to the county convention.

In 1928 every state in the union had followed suit and adopted the primary election plan.

fought desperately to prevent the Japanese from isolating the Liuho reinforcements.

At the same time severe fighting occurred in Shanghai as Chinese raiding parties and snipers harassed Japanese by tunnelling and sharpshooting operations in the North Station sector.

Surprise Attacks

The Chinese made many surprise attacks in this area and claimed they had regained much ground previously captured by the Nipponese in their "big push."

By means of machine-gun attacks alone, the Chinese claimed, they mowed down hundreds of Japanese.

Hand-to-hand fighting also raged in the Chapel area, near the International Settlement, but Japanese shells, bombs, bullets and bayonets failed to dislodge the stubborn Chinese from their nests among the ruins of the war-wracked native quarter.

A sudden Japanese retreat from the civic center of Shanghai's Chinese city—an area which the Nipponese captured several weeks ago—puzzled Chinese strategists.

Chinese officials said they discovered the Japanese had stealthily decamped from the center during the night.

Demand Probe Of Price Of Beef

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Oct.—Federal investigation of increasing cost of beef was demanded today as prices reached near wartime levels and demand fell off twenty-five percent.

Demand for the federal probe was made by several city councillors, headed by Councilor John E. Kerrigan, who urged Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield to appeal to President Roosevelt.

YOUNG COUPLES ARE HONORED LAST NIGHT

One of the prettiest fall social events in the Reformed Presbyterian church parlors was the reception given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Raschella of Ellwood City, and Mr. and Mrs. John S. Riley, Jr., of New Castle, Thursday evening.

Using fall flowers, palms and ferns, the church social parlors presented a homey appearance. Under the direction of Chester Kyle, chorister of the church, the following program was presented:

James McKim played some selections on the guitar and mouth organ. Mrs. Wylie Craig gave readings and acted as accompanist of the evening. Mrs. John McKee and Chester Kyle sang several vocal numbers.

After a treasure hunt under the direction of Harry Wilson the honored young couples returned to the parlors and found a generous shower of fine presents as tokens of their friends' esteem.

Mrs. Raschella will be remembered as Aletha Wilson, a niece of Dr. and Mrs. James M. Blackwood. She is a graduate of New Castle high school and Geneva college. At the present time Mr. and Mrs. Raschella are members of the teaching staff in the Ellwood City schools.

Mrs. Riley is the former Miss Edna Mae Shaffer, who taught in the West Side school of New Castle, and Mr. Riley is proprietor of the feed store bearing his name.

Kenneth Gaston acted as chairman of the evening. On the committee in charge of refreshments were Mrs. Ella Jenkins, Martha Dodds, Edith Hollis and Louise Gaston.

Amerita Club

Mrs. Mario Frabotta, of Grant street, proved a pleasing hostess Thursday evening to the Amerita club members.

Chat and cards were pastimes with the prize going to Mrs. Andrew Nocera. Club prize was won by Mrs. Nicholas George. Later in the evening lunch was served, the hostess being assisted by Miss Eleanor Frabotta.

A handkerchief shower was given honoring the birthdays of Mrs. A. M. Perifano and Mrs. Anthony Villani. Mrs. Norman Cussina was showered with many lovely gifts for her infant daughter, Stella Maria.

October 14 the club will meet in the home of Mrs. Andrew Nocera, of Matilda avenue.

QUEEN ESTHERS PLAN MONDAY NIGHT EVENT

Plans are completed for the meeting on Monday evening, for members of the Queen Esther Class of the Third U. P. church, when they gather for a social time in conjunction with their regular meeting.

The event will be held in the home of Mrs. Fred Thompson, 941 Beckford street, and the following will serve as cohostesses: Mrs. Thomas Baskeyfield, Marie Douglas and Carolyn Book.

A special program has also been arranged, with Mrs. Harold Walton chairman in charge. Others on her committee are Mrs. Cecil Potter and Mrs. Otis Branscome.

RECENT BRIDE IS HONORED BY GROUP

Mrs. Allen Cartwright, a recent bride, was presented with a beautiful gift from the Section D members of the Third U. P. church when they were entertained by Mrs. W. O. Brown on Thursday evening at her home on Sheridan avenue.

The meeting was in charge of the leader, Mrs. Edna Lutz. Devotions were led by Mrs. Laura Wallace and a short business meeting during which plans for a tea in October were discussed followed.

Mrs. Nettie Agnew was welcomed to the section as a new member.

Mrs. Brown served a nice lunch in the dining room at the close, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Martha Glass.

JOLLY TWELVE CLUB THURSDAY MEETING

Mrs. Albert Perkins received members of the Jolly Twelve club in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Baldwin on Adams street, Thursday evening.

A short business period preceded the playing of cards. Honors went to Mrs. Joseph Perkins and Mrs. H. B. McConnell. Mrs. George Double and Mrs. George Thornton, Jr., were special guests.

Delicious refreshments were served at the individual tables by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Baldwin and Miss Betty Johnson. Favors were bridal wreaths made of candy and encircled with lace.

October 14, Mrs. H. B. McConnell of Round street will entertain at her home.

LUNCHEON AT ELKS FOR E. N. C. MEMBERS

A luncheon party held in the private dining room of the Elks club, interested members of the E. N. C. club Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. H. A. Anderson, hostess. The table was prettily appointed in autumnal tones, with covers marking for all members and one guest, Miss Carrie Whittacre, who entered nurses training today at Jameson Memorial hospital.

Bingo was the pastime during the balance of the afternoon hours with Mrs. Clarence Johnston, Mrs. I. A. Lytle, Mrs. Clyde Turner, Mrs. A. L. Whittacre and Mrs. H. A. Anderson winning the prizes. A short business period followed, with president, Mrs. Clyde Turner, in charge.

In four weeks, Mrs. J. J. Kalajainen, of East New Castle, will entertain at their regular meeting.

EVER READY CLASS PROGRAM IS BEGUN

Mrs. Verna Sloan, of 914 McCleary avenue, entertained the Ever Ready class of the First Methodist Episcopal church Thursday evening at the initial meeting of the fall.

Fifteen members were present. After the period of devotions and prayer the president, Mrs. Viola Foster, conducted a business session.

A great deal of merriment was caused by "Uncle Jim's Question Box" later. The first prize went to Mrs. Leora Walthers and the other to young Miss Mary Lou Brunton.

Mrs. Sloan served a lunch, assisted by Miss Jane Tomer.

The October meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Jean Henley, Centennial street.

SWING CLUB GUESTS AT McCLYMONDS HOME

Mrs. George Nickerson entertained Swing club members Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Clare McClymonds, North Cedar street.

Mrs. C. M. Booher was a special guest. Cards were the feature of the evening with prizes going to Peg Kennedy and Mrs. Phillard Unangst.

A delicious lunch was served at the small tables by the hostess.

The next meeting will be in the form of a party on Saturday, October 9, at a tea room. Husbands and boy friends will also be guests at this party.

DINNER HONORS STUDENT NURSE

Mrs. W. R. Johnston entertained at a dinner at 6:30 o'clock at her home on the New Castle-Ellwood City road Wednesday evening in honor of her daughter Anna Mae, who is leaving to go in training in the Bashline hospital, Grove City.

The dinner table was attractively decorated with garden flowers. The evening was spent in chatting, radio music and singing.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS FOR PARLEY-VOUS CLUB

Election of officers featured the meeting of the Parley-Vour club on Thursday evening, held at the home of Mrs. Jack Dunlap, Court street. Mrs. Forbie Pitzer, Jr., was elected president for the new club year, Mrs. Jack Dunlap is vice-president and Mrs. Robert Slack secretary and treasurer.

Games filled in the time, with Mrs. Walter Patterson and Mrs. Robert Slack carrying off the awards. Refreshments were a later pleasure, the table appointments suggesting the autumnal season with a centerpiece of fall flowers.

Mrs. Walter Patterson of Northview avenue will receive members on October 28 at her home.

THETA-NU CLUB HAS CHICAGO GUEST

Mrs. Mary Erwin of Chicago was a special guest at the Theta-Nu club meeting Thursday evening when members met in the home of Mrs. Gladys Walter, of Cunningham avenue.

Pastimes of the evening were fancy work and social chat. At a short business meeting, plans were made for the Fall activities. On October 9 the club will be entertained at a six o'clock dinner in Youngstown and on October 14, Miss Hazel Steinbrink of Cunningham avenue, will entertain the club at a masquerade party.

Late in the evening, a delicious lunch was served, the hostess being assisted in serving by Mrs. Genevieve Johns and Mrs. C. E. Connor.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held on the last Thursday of October at the home of Mrs. John Whiteman of Pollock avenue.

O. F. T. Club

Mrs. Percy White of Wilmington avenue, was a pleasing hostess to O. F. T. club members Thursday evening, when they gathered to sharing another of their regular sessions. The birthday anniversary of Mrs. Charles Irwin, was honored as a special feature. She received a collection of dainty hankies, in behalf of the group.

In 500, Mrs. Percy White, Mrs. I. L. Eardley and Mrs. William Bowen were fortunate in winning the prizes. Mrs. Ralph Phillips was a special guest.

Following the serving of refreshments by the hostess aided by Mary Fedor and Mary Ellen Kontz, they made plans for their next meeting on October 14. Mrs. Lawrence Burgo of Neshannock avenue will receive on this date.

Reunited Ladies League

An enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Belle Clark on Madison avenue Thursday, when she entertained the Reunited Ladies League, and one special guest, Mrs. Will Ulrich.

A short business session opened the informal program, with bingo contests following. Mrs. Anna Nolte and Mrs. Lena Nolte captured the prizes. In serving a repast, the hostess was aided by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Virginia Clark.

October 14, members will meet with Mrs. John Sonntag, East Washington street.

S. E. B. Class

The S. E. B. class of the First Methodist church will be entertained on Monday evening at the home of Miss Jane Edmunds, East Wallace avenue.

HI-LO-BRIDGE CLUB PLANS ANNUAL PARTY

In keeping with a custom of the club, associates of the Hi-Lo-Bridge club formulated plans for their annual Fall dinner party to be held on October 14 at a downtown tea room. The hour is 7 o'clock. Arrangements were discussed in detail last evening when they met as guests of Mrs. Ben Johnson on Moody avenue. Mrs. Milton Reiber was named as chairman.

Card playing followed with the hostess capturing the trophy. They also presented Mrs. C. R. Hutchison with a pretty gift, she being a special guest.

Lunch concluded activities, the table being attractively arranged with cut flowers. In serving, Mrs. Johnson was aided by Miss Frances Gibson.

RE-DEAL CLUB HAS FIRST FALL SESSION

The opening meeting of the fall season for the Re-Deal club members, was in the form of a dessert-bridge, the group meeting Thursday with Mrs. Claude Crill on South Walnut street, hostess. Flowers used effectively in the decorations. The table was graced with a cluster of choice blooms. Aiding, Mrs. Crill had Mrs. Russell Lennig.

One of their number, Mrs. John Ingham (Clara Bernine) was honored, when they tendered her a shower. Card playing was the pastime following, with trophies falling to Dorothy Kay and Mrs. Matthew Honkonen.

October 21, the club will meet with Mrs. John Ingham on Northview avenue.

PROGRESSIVE CLUB HAS GUESTS AT MEET

Three guests, Mrs. Edward Sheridan, Mrs. Carl Groetsch and Mrs. Ted Castele, enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. John Burns on West Moody avenue Thursday evening together with members of the Progressive Bridge club.

The occasion marked their biweekly meeting with cards providing the usual pastime. Mrs. J. T. Deane and Miss Kathryn Nitsche won the prizes. Lunch was served, the hostess having as aides, Mrs. Charles Hennon and Mrs. Edward Sheridan. Fall flowers and other appointments in keeping with the season, prevailed throughout.

October 14 the club will meet with Mrs. Trevor Griffiths on Court street.

BRIDGE-SHOWER EVENT OF THURSDAY

A lovely party took place Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Clare McClymonds, Cedar street, when she entertained at a bridge-shower in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Cather of Madison avenue. The occasion was in the form of a surprise, and the honoree received an array of lovely gifts.

Bridge claimed attention during the leisure time, with Mrs. Bert Grassel and Miss Jane Leicht capturing the awards.

In serving lunch, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. George Nickerson. Seasonal appointments were used in the table decorations, and Fall flowers were used in profusion throughout the home.

L. A. B. Club Entertained

Mrs. M. R. Sweet, of Galbreath avenue, was a pleasing hostess to the members of the L. A. B. club Thursday evening.

The evening was spent in playing cards and bingo with the prizes going to Mrs. Ben Jones and Mrs. A. Williams. At the conclusion of play the guests were invited to the dining room, beautifully decorated with fall flowers, where a delicious lunch was served by the hostess and Mrs. John Sweet.

October 14 Mrs. James Grove, of East Washington street, will entertain the club in her home.

W. E. Club

Mrs. Clarence Hollis, of Huron avenue, provided an interesting Thursday evening for the W. E. club ladies with card playing as the main activity. Prizes went to Mrs. Harold Good, Mrs. Ben Hartland and Mrs. Orville Michael.

Special guests, Miss Virginia Kerber and Mrs. Melvin Rhinehart, were given souvenirs by the hostess.

Lunch was served at the card tables, transformed in a lovely fashion with fall flowers, and later the guests departed to meet next time with Mrs. Harold Good, Hazel street.

J. B. Club.

J. B. club members met at the home of Mrs. Floyd Critchlow in North Beaver township on Thursday for an all day meeting.

Dinner was sedved at 12 o'clock by the hostess to 14 members after which music and social chat were enjoyed.

The next meeting will be October 14 in the home of Mrs. Charles Brown on Hamilton street.

A. B. D. Society

The A. B. D. Missionary Society, of the First Presbyterian church, will meet at the home of Mrs. C. L. Shira, 122 Englewood avenue, Tuesday evening, October 5, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Samuel Perry will be the speaker.

JAPANESE MUSIC TO MARK WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's Club will open its new year with a luncheon-recital in the First Presbyterian church on Monday afternoon, October 4. The event will attract a large gathering of club women and their guests. The guest artiste, Agnes Allchin Hanson, will present a descriptive recital of Japanese music.

Mrs. Hanson's background and experience qualify her particularly well as an interpreter of the musical art of Japan. She was born in that country of missionary parents, and remained there during her youth. Though she received her education in this country, graduating from the University of Syracuse with the degree of Batcheor of Music, she returned to Japan to teach. It was there that she met her husband, who was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work. Mrs. Hanson's program will be given in Japanese costume.

Reservations for the one o'clock luncheon must be made with the chairman of the program committee, Mrs. G. W. Thomas, no later than Friday.

Birthday Party

Mrs. Sadie Donaldson was pleasantly surprised at a party given in her honor at the home of her son, Earl J. Donaldson, Wednesday evening.

Keano was the pastime with prizes going to Mrs. Donaldson, Mrs. Jess Donaldson and Mrs. Frank Cartwright, Jr. Lunch was served at a late hour by Mrs. Earl Donaldson.

The honored guest received many lovely gifts in remembrance of the happy occasion.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO INSTALL OFFICERS

The American Legion Auxiliary will gather Monday evening in the Legion Home for installation of new officers and for a tureen dinner at 6:30 o'clock.

Section F, Y. L. B.

Section F, of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. David Ritchie, South Mill street, on Wednesday evening.

Thirteen members were present. The president, Mrs. Maude Fisher, was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. Mershimer led devotionals.

After the business meeting was conducted, a social time was enjoyed. Mrs. Mershimer assisted the hostess in serving a tempting lunch.

Tuesday, October 19, the section will meet at the home of Mrs. Maude Fisher, of East Washington street.

TUREEN FOR JOLLY TEN AT OHIO HOME

Members of the Jolly Ten club met at the home of Mrs. Frank MacArthur of Youngstown, O., Thursday at noon for a tureen dinner.

The table and home were beautifully decorated with fall flowers. Mrs. MacArthur was assisted in serving by Mrs. Phoebe Patton.

The next meeting will be October 7 at the home of Mrs. J. C. Thurston of Chestnut street.

1935 Club

A dinner party at a downtown tea room, was enjoyed by 1935 club members Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Robert Slack, presiding as hostess. A theatre party followed.

AUTUMN TRAFFIC DANGERS

RIGHT now the country is passing through the dangerous season from the traffic point of view. Autumn days have the highest accident rate of the year.

This can be attributed to a number of causes. During the morning and evening rush hours the light is imperfect but not sufficiently so to make driving with lights necessary. Accidents are the inevitable result. Nor is the presto tempo of summer traffic moderated until snow and ice make it mandatory. This is also the season of wet, slippery pavements and low visibility.

There is also a tendency at this season for both the driver and the pedestrian to quicken their pace under the urge of brisk, frosty mornings and the early and rapid fall of night. And when traffic rushes headlong the papers have something to write about.

Once warned of the dangerous days it behooves every man, woman and child to exercise at least one more ounce of caution if not out of consideration for others then for reason of personal safety. There are a dozen traffic "don'ts" which might bear repeating at this time but one injunction covers them all—Keep your eyes open and your mind on the serious business of walking or driving.

PACE SETTER OF YEARS AGO

The divorce suit of Irene Castle McLaughlin against her third husband brings into the spotlight a woman who helped to create an epoch in dancing and fashions. With her first husband, the late Vernon Castle, she popularized the so-called "trots" and one-steps, definitely and conclusively ending the era of sedate Victorian age dances.

They set the step and the pace and a large section of the American public, boys and girls, men and women, old and young, followed. Syncopated music, now known as "jazz," developed and swept the country at the same time. When Irene Castle bobbed her hair, millions of American women followed suit. And when Irene Castle shortened or tightened her skirts, millions of other women did likewise. Because she was slim, America altered its idea of feminine beauty from well-rounded curves, to sinewy slenderness.

Perhaps no one American woman exercised such wide-spread influence on other members of her sex as did Irene Castle. And the trend which she started has not ended.

Yet a few years after her husband died in an airplane crash at an army airfield during the World War days, her name became but a memory. It cannot be denied, however, that the dancing of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle to the piping of Irving Berlin contributed substantially to the great and far-reaching changes that have taken place in America since the conventional pre-war days.

MORE WOMEN THAN MEN

One of the tenets of Nazi ideology is that it is the duty of women to marry and produce the children who will sustain the Fatherland in its hours of trial, which means principally that these children shall be able to shoulder a rifle, man the trenches and die in them if necessary.

There is now great anxiety among Nazi leaders, from Adolf Hitler down, because the Reich has a surplus of about 2,000,000 women, also a falling birth rate which holds serious perils to the future of Germany, especially its future as a military power.

There is tragic irony in this situation because it was nothing but the military power of Germany that was responsible for the present great excess of women over men in the country's population. If Germany had not the most perfect military machine in the world back in 1914 and if Emperor Wilhelm and others of the Potsdam brethren had not had their eyes fixed upon the attainment of a place in the sun there would not now be in Germany 2,000,000 more women than men.

Through the simple processes of reasoning the more profound of the Nazi thinkers should be convinced that a nation cannot lose a million men in battle and have probably twice as many more maimed without affecting the numerical strength of future generations.

The total of known dead in the World War was 10,004,771, while the total of known wounded was 20,297,551. It is estimated that in Austria and Serbia alone more than a million civilians died of starvation, disease and privation. There were 2,000,000 deaths of Russian civilians in excess of normal.

Nazi officials should realize, accordingly, just what happens to human resources in time of war, also why Germany has 2,000,000 more women than men. War and the conservation of human resources do not go together.

EMOTIONALISM IN THE SADDLE

To the undergraduates at Princeton, President Harold Willis Dodds has committed for study if not solution the problem of emotional government, which, in contrast to intellectual government, he reminds has gained alarming ground over the world in recent years.

His presidential address summed up for these young men a situation which has meant, in some countries, "development of a collective distrust of intelligence." It was thus proper that he should bring to a campus which stands for sovereignty of the brain over primitive impulses even a dolorous picture of a world which "finds itself in deepening fear and increasing tension," due, he insists, to a revolt against reason in favor of the enthronement of instinct, particularly racial and group instinct in its most bellicose form."

Even in democratic lands "important public decisions are colored by powerful, even primitive, emotions," he laments, and men still "mark their ballots in most irrational ways, tending to vote prejudices and shallow resentments rather than seasoned conclusions."

This is a serious indictment of men the world over. Of course, either rule or anything else on strict logical principles, devoid of human emotions, would be preposterous. Dr. Dodds would concede this. He rather fears the true balance is now swinging toward the extreme of ephemeral feelings, usurping reason in certain capitals.

No doubt he had dictators in mind, as these seem to govern almost entirely by emotions, with force of the rulers and timid obeisance by the ruled substituting for an idealized co-operation of intelligent persons being governed in intelligent ways with their own consent. It at least is a timely plea for cerebral emphasis, considering the emotionalism now rampant on two continents.

General Franco predicts that the great objective soon will be reached. And the great objective, according to all signs, is mutual extermination.

The Parent Problem

HUMANE SOCIETY APPROVED

We parents want our children to be kind to animals. In learning to do so, they cultivate the finer emotions and gain moral values. We best begin throug good example in ourselves, and in training of the child as soon as he can move about.

Years before the child is able to care for a pet, there may be such pets as dog or cat in his home. Learning reasonable restraints, he can be taught to treat the animal gently, kindly. If, however, the tot should resort to tormenting the dog or cat by deliberately hurting it, he should be restrained. Suppose your three-year-old child throws things at the pup or kitty or hurts it in some other way. Right then and there give that child a good sound spanking and every time thereafter, if he should repeat the offense. Be decisive. Mere talk will not be enough. Train him first and reason with him later about such matters.

On the farm, the growing child needs to learn to be kind to the animals. See that he does not throw stones at them, or at the birds—common offenses among rural children. Very important to his moral education that he should observe in adults their proper care of the horses and mules that patiently do hard

All Of Us

I.....I.....I

I am suspicious of all habits—until I know whether they are chains, or life preservers.

I wish I got more "kick" out of giving a panhandler a dime . . . I never know whether his sad story is true, or is just an ingenious trick. The advantage is with him because he knows the truth of it and I don't.

I like to "get away"—but I'm always glad to come back.

I do not mind being criticized but I want to know what spirit is behind it. . . . Does it come from a mean superiority or is it meant to be genuinely helpful.

Whenever I eat a bunch of grapes, I pick the ripest ones first—and they become less and less enjoyable as I come to the end. If I were wiser I would eat the greener grapes first and my enjoyment would mount. . . . I used to know a man who always ate his dessert first.

Recently I was wakened at midnight by the ringing of the telephone. . . . It was some man who had been given a wrong number. He apologized graciously and hoped I hadn't been too greatly disturbed. . . . That's the first time that ever happened to me. Usually those wrong-number people merely grunt and hang up.

I like people who can do things. . . . This week I found I could not get the key into the ignition lock of my car. A garage man said I needed a new lock. A locksmith said the lock should be taken apart and cleaned. A friend told me to dip the key into graphite powder and sift the powder down into the tumblers. I did that and my lock is as good as new now. . . . I like people who know how to do things.

And I have not yet met a man who was unwilling to explain something to me if he thought I was capable of understanding what he knew.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

NEW YORK — Sanford Bates, former director of the Federal Bureau of Prisoners, says this country's attitude toward crime is "short sighted:

"We think too much about putting criminals in jail and not enough about what to do with them when they come out."

WASHINGTON — Arthur H. Muchow, president of the International Association For Identification, blames parents for sex delinquency among children:

"The reason sex crime is on the increase is because parents, either b. lack of information or by failure to gain confidence in their children, do not prepare them to meet these important problems."

VATICAN CITY — Pope Pius says pagans and reds menace the world:

"On the one hand communism rears itself, and on the other hand the cult of state and the desire to restore public authority against the intrigues of communism lead men to forget the wisdom of the gospels and to exhume pagan errors and morals."

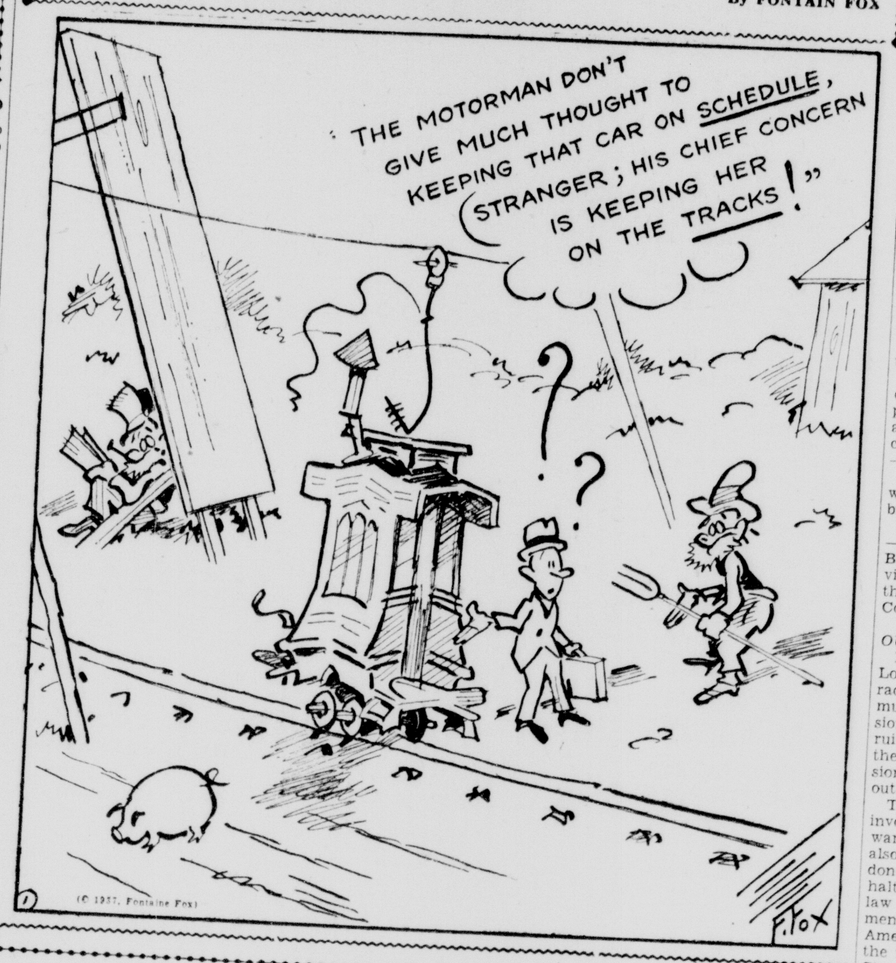

LOS ANGELES — Otoichi Kinoshita of Tokyo, executive director of the Japan Trade Promotion Association and manager of a world tour, predicts an early termination of hostilities in the Orient:

"We are fighting the Chinese military groups, not the Chinese people, for the Japanese are good friends of the Chinese people. The war will be over in a month.

Albert Harris was a worthless sort of a chap—so much so that his wife, Harriet, was compelled to do many menial chores to provide for both of them.

But one day Albert conveniently died. A few days after the funeral Harriet was walking down the street carrying a package under her arm. An old acquaintance, leaning lazily against a telephone pole greeted her with:

"Hello, 'arriet. Wot you got uner your harm, liver?"

"No," she replied. "I've just been after 'avin Albert's remines cremited and I 'ave his dust in this package, and I'm takin 'im 'ome and puttin' 'im in an 'our glass. From now on 'e's workin' for me, the bliter."

By Francine Markel

DEAR MISS MARKEL—I have casement windows that open out. Is there any way I can save my curtains the wear and tear of being exposed to the elements every time I open my windows to which they are now attached?—ROSE M.

Answer—Yes, there is a way. Do not attach your curtains or draperies to your windows.

Casement windows like yours must be specially treated. Run a rod along the top of each window frame and attach the curtains to it, free of the window. Then you may have all of the air you wish without detriment to your curtains.

Casement windows that swing in must have their curtains fastened to the windows, otherwise the windows, when opening in, will scrape against their detached curtains.

The World At A Glance

Japanese Madness Discussed.
Boycott May Prove Dangerous.
Debate Profits Versus Peace.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

CAN JAPAN be stopped from killing thousands of non-combatant Chinese? Can the war-made Nipponese empire be restrained from bombing the peaceful homes of millions, bringing about unparalleled slaughter of civilian population?

The foreign offices of the democratic nations of the world propound the question with increasing anxiety. The peoples of the democratic nations have become aroused —and "demand action".

Physical attempts to stop Japan would mean only one thing — embroilment in an Oriental war.

But another method is available — refusal to trade with Japan. Boycott. It never has worked previously. It merely has added to the world's economic disruption. Could it work this time?

OUTLAWING A NATION

Nevertheless — as even financial London now confesses—if democracy does not show its hand now, it must prepare for further aggression. Profits now may mean utter ruin later. Besides, profits now, if they mean a furtherance of aggression, are immoral and ought to be outlawed.

The American neutrality law, if invoked, would go a long way toward crippling Japan. It would also cripple China, but China is done for anyway if Japan is not halted. The American neutrality law not only would stop the shipment of all war goods to Japan on American ships, it would prevent the raising of credits in the United States by Japan. Japan's own shipping still would be carrying goods, purchased on a cash basis—while China, with no merchant marine, would get nothing, but Japan soon may need much of its shipping for troop and subsistence transport in the China sea.

While Americans have been murmuring in horror over the Japanese butchery in China, many American shippers have been sending raw products—and even finished products — to Japan for war use. There is, in fact, a steady stream of tankers carrying American oil to Japan. The "Merchants of Death" have no scruples. If Americans are killed in China—or if Japan ever should turn upon the United States—it is probable that parts of the Japanese instruments of death would be of American production.

But is a neutrality law, when invoked, enough to check a war-mad nation?

No.

Then why not refuse to buy Japanese goods? Why not refuse to sell any goods to Japan?

That would be a boycott. And we ask again, would it work this time? Boycotts are a form of war. They are an economic blockade to starve a nation into submission. They are destructive to both sides.

JAPANESE GOODS

Cheap Japanese goods flood the world markets. Why are Japanese goods cheap? Because of unbelievably low living standards at home.

Cease to buy those goods — and would the Japanese workers then rise up in their misery and bring democracy to their homeland?

One cannot say. In Fascist countries (and Japan is one), the people are kept in ignorance of world conditions, and even of their own plight. They are kept isolated.

Their rulers inculcate a hate-spirit, a mob-spirit, and thus fan the misery of the people into a war-flame. Their misery is blamed upon other peoples, other nations.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

SOCIAL INSECURITY

It is very difficult to understand the Government's attitude concerning "Social Security." The Government spends great sums of money to keep men at work. The Social Security and the Minimum Pay and Maximum Hours Bills are designed to keep employed the largest number of men possible.

This same Government spends great sums of money with the manufacturers and particularly with the manufacturers of airplanes. There are several large factories now making airplanes. The business has not arrived at the point where airplanes can be sold like automobiles; that sort of a demand has not as yet been created. The Government of the United States is the greatest purchaser of airplanes.

It would strike the thinking man that it would be wise to divide the contracts for the building of these airplanes among the different established manufacturing concerns and thereby stabilize the business, so that they would keep employed a certain number of men continuously. Instead of that, a $40,000,000 government contract was let the other day to the Douglas Plant in California. Another large airplane plant, the Consolidated Aircraft Corp., also a California concern, bid upon these airplanes and expected to get at least a part of the contract. They did not get it, and as a consequence, they have to let go a thousand men. A great many of these men were brought to the Pacific Coast from Buffalo, New York, where the Consolidated Aircraft Corp. originally manufactured airplanes. These men are today without work. The Douglas people may need them and they may not, and until the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation can obtain contracts for the building of other planes, these men are going to be out of work. If the contract had been divided, no doubt both the Douglas and Colsolidated would have proceeded on their way without discharging any employees.

Is this "Social Security?"

TODAY Is The Day

Copyright 1937 Central Press — By CLARK KINNAIRD

FRIDAY, OCT. 1.

Once Upon Oct. 1—There had been such things as steam road-mobiles as early as 1769, and the idea of horseless carriage had been suggested even earlier, however, automotive history really begins with 1892. Selden, American; Benz and Daimler, Germans, and Levassor, Frenchman, had all put gasolene engines in cars before that date, but the car built by Charles E. Duryea, which startled residents of Springfield, Mass., on a crisp October day in 1892, was the first one successful enough to win popular attention for the automobile and convince the public it was no freak idea.

Duryea, proprietor of a bicycle shop, saw a gasolene-engine with electric ignition, when 25, and made up his mind such an engine could be used to run a buggy. With help of his brother, J. Frank, he built his first car 45 years ago and started an economic and social revolution.

The car's body was taken intact from a lady's phaeton, complete with whipsocket. Once its engine was started, there was no way to control the car's speed; it ran seven miles an hour until it was stopped—or hit something.

From this, within two years, Duryea evolved a machine with most of the main features of modern automobiles, such as a 4-cylinder engine with water-jackets, electric ignition, bevel-gear differential, rigid front axles with steering knuckles at the ends, and pneumatic tires.

Automobile factories sprang up within the next few years like mushrooms. All sorts of motor vehicles were placed on the market—propelled by gasoline, electricity, steam, compressed air, kerosene, acetylene gas, ether, liquid air and illuminating gas. One inventor even brought out a spring-motor vehicle, which was supposed to wind itself up by first running down hill.

A Duryea car won the first American road race. His machine proved itself superior to Europe's best when he took two models overseas.

The Popular History of American Invention remarks, "If Charles Duryea, in later years, had been willing to adopt the construction and arrangment of parts designed by Levassor and preferred by the public, he might have become one of the leading manufacturers of the world. But having proved that his machine was faster and more dependable than others made up to that time he persisted in mounting the engine in the rear of the body and continued to provide a handle or tiller for steering and controlling the speed. Despite the trend of the mechanical times, he refused to build what the public wanted. He never achieved success in business."

STRUGGLE

I know a man who likes to win
Whatever match he enters in.
Before the start he likes to know
Which way the battle's sure to go.
Sometimes I smile to hear him plead
To have his victories guaranteed.

But as for me, when I set out
I like to have the end in doubt.
I like to face a worthy foe
Who can return me blow for blow.
There's nothing makes a victory sweet
Like knowing that I risk defeat.

When I want sport I wouldn't choose
To play a game I couldn't lose,
Nor would I think it any fun
To fight for cups already won.
I want that rugged, doubtful test
That forces me to do my best.

When out to play a game I go,
The end I do not want to know
Until the final stroke is played.
I want the thrill of being afraid
I want the last result in doubt
Until I've fought the battle out.

Plan Regional Conference Of Red Cross Units

Annual Gathering Of Chapter Representatives To Take Place In Washington, Pa.

Invitations have been sent to officers of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, for the annual regional conference, which will take place at Washington, Pa., Friday, October 29.

The theme of the conference this year is "There is partnership under the Red Cross emblem." The principal speaker will be H. J. Hughes, legal adviser of the National Red Cross.

Plans for the annual roll call in November will be discussed, an emphasis will be placed on public health nursing and home hygiene work, together with accident prevention and safety.

1896—The first rural free delivery routes in the country were begun by the Postoffice Dept., from Charleston, Uvilla and Halltown, in West Virginia. Provision had been made for even the most remote farm to be reached by R. F. D. But the P. 1910—The Los Angeles Times Building was dynamited by members of the steel worker's union, causing the deaths of 21, fomenting the most celebrated labor court case in American history, next to the trial of the Danbury Hatters.

work—properly fed and watered, blanketed while idle out of doors in cold wather, not overheated or overworked.

Give Him Responsibility.

As soon as a child is old enough to care for a pet, let him learn to take responsibility for its care, in case he is to claim priority to its enjoyment. The trouble is that there generally is some adult of the family who robs him of this responsibility, always looking after the pet when he doesn't, even though grumbling to him for his negligence. He can- n.. learn responsibility for this pet unless he cares for it as regularly as l.. eats his own meals.

To train him in proper responsibility it may be necessary to set definite penalties (such as making him go without food when he has let the dog do so), and strictly enforce them. If the parent does not possess sufficient self-discipline to carry thrcugh such a program—and many parents don't—there remain only two courses to follow: to dispose of the pet, or to shut up and care for it herself. As a rule she will care for it, but go on vainly lec uring the child for his delinquency; from which he gets more moral harm than from neglect of the pet.

The Humane society, local, state, national, has rendered a good service in prevention of cruelty not only to animals, but also to women and children.

The World At A Glance

SACRIFICE

Certain it is, the people of the United States ought to be told that they will have to make a sacrifice in profits to maintain peace.

Neutrality means less cotton sold, less manufactured goods.

But why is it not possible for the United States to develop its own manufacturing processes further, to enable it to use its own raw products to the full? What is the sense of sending raw materials over to Japan, to be made into goods by virtual slave labor, and which is sent back to compete against American workers and manufacturers?

Tariff barriers are not the way to meet that condition. The manner in which to meet it is through domestic development; find a means of producing, under high standard living conditions, the same products, better, for less money. It can be done—by a nation that has conquered every other mechanical difficulty.

ITALY, GERMANY

Will Mussolini's Italy and Hitler's Germany eventually pay the price for their own efforts to destroy democracy? What do they think now of aggression — seeing Japan slaughter the Chinese?

But have they not set the stage for just this?

When Italy overran Ethiopia and sent foreign legions into Spain to help the Franco Fascists capture it, when Germany laid waste to an innocent Spanish port because one of its cruisers was hit by a shell, did they not throw humanity to the winds? Do they not fear now that the seed which they sowed will be reaped in a harvest so horrible that the future will look back and cry, "The darkest of ages."

COPELAND CLASS HOSTS AT DINNER

The S. B. Copeland Class of the Third U. P. church "done themselves brown" Thursday evening, when they entertained at a spaghetti dinner party for members of the Queen Esther class in the church dining room. An overwhelming success, is putting it mildly, as everyone in attendance, enjoyed every second from the time they arrived until they adjourned for their homes.

At 7 o'clock, seventy-five guests filed into the spacious dining room, and took their places at banquet tables, beautifully decorated in an array of autumn colors. Flowers were used in artistic arrangement, and novel individual favors were given as mementos. The Copeland members served an elegant menu of several courses, in a most efficient manner, and at intervals throughout the evening, pep singing was entered into with Mrs. Harold Walton, at the piano. The program followed, when Dr. G. S. Jenkins, president of the hosts' class, introduced their master of ceremonies, Cecil Potter. He handled the situation perfectly, first calling upon Bernard Hook, their teacher, who made fitting remarks. Miss Mary Scherger delighted the group with a descriptive talk on her trip to Europe relating many amusing experiences. Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates, who with his wife shared as special guests, interested the assembly with a talk on his trip to the Holylands this year. He too, added little quips of humor, holding the close attention of his audience.

The evening climaxed with an uproar of laughter, when Dr. G. S. Jenkins and Cecil Potter, endeavored to display their talents as magicians.. A doubt was held by Bernard Hook, who was immediately called to the front and "put on the carpet.' It resulted eventually, that Jack Kenehan was made the final victim of their "Act of Magic."

Greetings and words of appreciation was given by Mrs. J. J. Kenehan, president of the Queen Esther group, and in return, Garth Rapson spoke in behalf of the S. B. Copeland group.

Committees in charge, included, Clarence Love, John J. Kenehan, William McBride and Cecil Potter. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sacripant and Mr. and Mrs. William Mooney prepared the dinner. Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates concluded with prayer.

SEMPER FIDELIS AT FAZZONE HOME

Mrs .H. Fazzone, 204 Park avenue, proved a charming hostess to members of the Semper Fidelis club on Thursday evening.

The hours were whiled away delightfully, cards, music and a discussion of numerous topics of interest being the pastimes. Card prizes were awarded to Mrs. Marie Felasco and Mrs. B. Budellazze. Mrs. E. Scarazzo won the club token. At an appointed hour, the hostess served dainty refreshments, being assisted by her daughter Venetia, and Charlotte Biondi. Mrs. Carl Tranquillo, Warren, O., was a special guest. The event was most enjoyable.

In two weeks Mrs. Marie Felasco, Huron avenue, will entertain the club.

Mrs. Sophia Dale Honored.

Mrs. Sophia Dale, Pearl street, was tendered a delightful surprise in her home Wednesday afternoon, when a group of friends invaded her home to help celebrate her birthday anniversary.

The occasion was most informal and the time was devoted to various avenues of pastimes. Lunch was served by the group, who had set the table in appointments suggestive of the occasion. A large cake, aglow with lighted candles, formed the centerpiece.

As additional mementos of the event, the honoree was showered with an array of dainty hankies.

Jolly Jesters

Mrs. B. Shane, of Edenburg, was a pleasing hostess to the Jolly Jesters club Thursday afternoon at her home.

Quilting was enjoyed by the members and later, a lunch was served at an attractively arranged table. Aides in serving were Miss Grace Wallace and Mrs. J. Majestic.

The next gathering will be at the home of Miss Grace Wallace, of the Edenburg-New Castle road, on Thursday, October 14.

1934 QUILTERS HAVE ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Officers for the 1934 Jolly Quilters club were elected Thursday at the meeting of the club in the home of Mrs. John Ulrich on Beckford street.

The officers are: president, Mrs. George Salamon; secretary, Mrs. Robert Abernathy; treasurer, Mrs. William Anderson.

A tureen dinner was served at noon by the hostess. Mrs. Ralph Ulrich was a special guest.

The next meeting will be October 14 at the home of Mrs. Alfred Anderson, Morris street.

True Followers Class.

True Followers class of the Calvary Presbyterian church met at the home of Virginia and Pearl Dunn on the Ellwood-New Castle road Thursday evening.

A short business meeting was held in charge of Pauline Fredericks. Devotionals were led by Loretta Garver, Eva Beckert and Thelma Gordon. The business meeting was ended by singing a hymn.

The hours were spent in music, various games and contests, with prizes being won by Loretta Garver, Pauline Fredericks and Eva and Mary Beckert.

At an appropriate time Mrs. Dunn served a delicious lunch, assisted by her daughters Leona, Virginia and Pearl.

The next meeting will be held in the home of the teacher, Thelma Gordon, in the form of a Hallowe'en party. It will also be the means of bidding farewell to the girls in the class, who have been promoted, and too, of welcoming girls coming into the class. This party will take place October 29.

Allegra Club.

Allegra club members met at the home of Erma Williams, West Washington street, Thursday evening for their regular meeting.

During the business meeting plans were made for a Hallowe'en party, the date to be announced later. Club prize was awarded to Miss Betty DeCarbo. At a seasonable hour a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be on October 11 at the home of Mrs. Frank Marcella, 1024 South Mill street.

Alcanza Kensington

Mrs. Jesse Shoaf, of Marshall avenue, entertained the members of the Alcanza kensington at her home on Thursday.

The hours were spent in handiwork and social chat. Mrs. William Blews was a special guest. A delicious lunch was served, at a table centered with a huge bowl of roses. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Blews.

Mrs. Harry Ward, of Norwood avenue, will be the next hostess on the last Thursday in October.

Ye Olde Quilters.

Ye Olde Quilters met at the home of Mrs. Rose Magee, Croton avenue, Thursday afternoon with all members present.

A tureen dinner was served at noon by the hostess, aided by Mrs. Hutton and Mrs. Clarice Allison. Instead of the usual quilting, the afternoon was spent in playing bingo.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Msr. Steve McBride, R. D. 5, on October 21, with Mrs. Lila Smith as co-hostess.

Young Matrons.

Mrs. Pose Russo of 521 West Cherry street entertained members of the Young Matrons club in her home Thursday evening.

The chief diversion of the evening was cards with high score going to Mrs. Margaret Pia. The club prize was won by Mrs. Viola Cubellis.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, aided by Mary Carvella.

The next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Viola Cubellis on Clayton street.

Hershey Auxiliary.

Hershey auxiliary will meet Monday evening in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church, and the hostesses will be Mrs. David Long, Mrs. Donald Lusk, Mrs. Robert Mackey, Mrs. Mont Magill, Mrs. Russell Magill and Miss Mae Martin.

N. H. B. Kensington

The N. H. B. Kensington will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home of Mrs. E. J. McKibben, 305 Meyer avenue.

Question Five In Slaying Of Ohio Patrolman

Three Men And Two Women Are Held At Cadiz, Ohio

(International News Service)

CADIZ, O., Oct. 1.—Three men and two women were held here today for questioning and investigation in connection with the slaying of State Highway Patrolman George Conn, 28, whose bullet-riddled body was found Monday in a ditch near Freeport.

Capt. George Mingle, in charge of the murder investigation, said he did not believe the women had any connection with the case. The men, however, will be held until authorities of southeastern Ohio can talk with them, Mingle said.

Those held are James Murphy, 38; Donald Ward, 26, and Harry Gallagher, 42, all of Wheeling, W. Va.; Jean Morris, 18, Niles, O., and Elsie Yost, 27, Barnesville, O.

Mingle said the girls accepted a ride with the three men, who were seen in Freeport shortly before Conn's body was found. The men said they were paint salesmen.

According to patrol officers the suspects took apart a .32 calibre revolver and hid it beneath a fairgrounds grandstand in Coshocton, where they were arrested last night. The women were picked up at Cambridge later.

The men were traced through a telephone call they made to Wheeling.

Conn was murdered with .32 calibre bullets. He was shot seven times.

Mission Singers At First Church Tonight

25th Anniversary Continues; Second U. P. Heard Them Last Night

The 25th anniversary services of the City Rescue Mission continued last night at the Second U. P. church, will move tonight to the auditorium of the First Christian church on the public square. The program starts at 8.

At the Second U. P. last night, as every night, the Spiritual Jubilee singers from Chicago appeared and won the hearts of the people. Superintendent Archie W. Gibson spoke on "Why I Believe in City Missions."

Each night's audience has been large and the mission's observance has been an outstanding success. On Monday evening, October 4, in the First Baptist church, a "plantation program" of the jubilee singers will climax it.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 2

The Girl Scouts of Troop 2 held their weekly meeting at Highland school, Tuesday, September 28. The meeting was opened with the playing of games. The girls then had patrol meetings when questions were distributed. These were discussed later in the evening.

The flower group met with Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Royce to discuss their flower badge. The girls, that did not belong to this group, were divided into committees to take charge of the next meeting which will be next Thursday, October 7.

Scribe, Dorothy Hayes.

TROOP 5 MEETS

Croton M. E. Troop 4 met in the Junior room of the church Thursday evening. Games and songs started the meeting. Patrol corners were followed by interest groups, with Mrs. George Ward, the leader, helping the second class scouts, and Mary Louis Meehan the first class group.

A short court of honor was held. Songs and games, followed by Slumber and Taps, concluded the meeting. A number of new members have enrolled in the troop this fall. The troop will meet again next Thursday evening.

Scribe, Marjorie Allen.

POKONOCKET TROOP

The Girl Scouts of Troop 13 of the Second U. P. church had their second meeting of the year in the basement of the church Wednesday evening. The meeting was opened by the girls going to their patrol corners where dues were collected and attendance checked. The girls then went to interest groups where signaling, hostess and tenderfoot work were studied. The girls were then introduced to their new lieutenant, Miss Wanda Hanna. The meeting was closed by a series of games and songs. After the close of the meeting a court of honor was held in which various business was settled.

BOY SCOUT Activities

NESHANNOCK TROOP

Neshannock Troop No. 1 held its first winter meeting Monday at Neshannock school. The meeting was in charge of Scoutmaster Barge. A business meeting was held in which new patrol leaders and assistants were elected. It also included a wiener roast which is to be held in October, and plans for a troop contest which will begin in two weeks. The meeting was closed by Scout Boalick.

Scribe, Sam Venturella.

TROOP V55

Troop V55 met in Trinity church on Tuesday evening for their regular weekly meeting. Opening exercises were led by Dale Clobus.

During the meeting the scouts from our troop laid out a fine display of things that they had traded for at the National Jamboree. After the boys had seen this display there were short drills in signaling, first aid and knot tying. Closing exercises were led by Dale Clobus.

Scribe, Bob Cleland.

Ladies' Night To Draw Crowd

Thousand Or More Will Attend Caliphs' Event At Cathedral Tonight

No less than a thousand people will attend the Ladies' Night party of the Caliphs of Bagdad tonight in the Cathedral, and the likelihood at noon today was that the number would go to 1200.

Every mail today brought Albert Street, secretary and treasurer of the Caliphs a new batch of acceptances, his telephone rang all day with telephone reservations and at noon the total had reached 850 and was mounting hourly.

The idea of a Ladies' Night was projected some time ago and immediately caught the fancy of the members. In the arrangements it was decided that no degree work would be attempted but candidates for the degrees will be obligated before the entertainment starts. The party is for the wives and lady friends of the Caliphs and the entire evening is to be given over to entertainment.

The doors of the Cathedral will be open at seven o'clock. Somewhere near seven-thirty the first item of entertainment will be presented, the motion picture "Evergreen" starring the glamorous English beauty, Jessie Matthews.

Following the picture six stellar acts of vaudeville will be presented and among the acts is Virginia Hart, sensational acrobatic dancer of Pittsburgh. With her will be a group of other talented youngsters.

At the conclusion of the vaudeville the crowd will go to the dining room where a cold plate lunch will be served and a dance in the crystal ball room follows.

All Caliphs are asked to wear their Fezzes. The evening promises to be something to sing about and if the reservations keep coming the crowd is going to top anything the Caliphs have ever done.

H. H. CLUB MEETS THURSDAY NIGHT

Members of the H. H. club of the South Side gathered in the Victor Emmanuel hall, East Home street, Thursday evening, for their weekly meeting.

During the usual business session, plans were completed for a Hallowe'en dance. The group whiled away the major part of the evening discussing various topics of interest. Nick Mastrangelo, Tony Spinelli and Frank Colo, hosts, served dainty refreshments at an appointed time.

The club meets again next Thursday evening in the Victor Emmanuel hall. James Cherol, John Mastrangelo and Louis Mastrangelo will be hosts.

Several Minor Auto Accidents

E. J. Rosenbloom, R. D. 5, reported to police at 2:30 p. m. yesterday that another car attempted to pass his machine and struck the fender of his car.

C. A. Picket, 530 Roosevelt avenue, Bellevue, reported to police, he was backing out of a parking place at the Fountain Inn and his car struck an auto with Pennsylvania license 2X840.

Eugene Cranmer, 6 West Moody avenue, parked on Falls street yesterday. The brakes became disengaged and his car ran into a car parked ahead of his auto, he told police.

Theodore L. Minor, Volant, R. D. 2, told police, a small colored boy, ran in front of his car in Croton avenue and was struck by the car. Minor took the lad to a doctor where he was treated, Minor said.

Butt Of Tree Is In Cartway

Contrary to the report published yesterday the butt of the tree in North Beaver street, which was struck by a car driven by Herbert Hake, Walmo, last Thursday night, does protrude into the cartway. The report printed yesterday said the tree was "18 inches inside the curb". It should have read that the butt of the tree is 18 inches in the cartway. The request for $12.00 damages asked by Hake was voiced by Oscar Saul. The bill has been referred by council to city solicitor.

Change Location Of Gospel Mission

The Gospel Mission, which has been located on Long avenue, has been moved to 413 Croton avenue. Sunday school will be held from 3 to 4 p. m. Plans are being made for a special opening program and dedication service for the second Sunday in October.

Light on Lindy

Dr. Alexis Carrel, famous scientist, is pictured on his arrival in New York from Europe. He emphatically denied that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh intends to become a British citizen. Dr. Carrel and the flier have long been associated in scientific research, and together perfected the famous "mechanical heart."

(Central Press)

Chemists at a salt water refinery in New Jersey have discovered that one mile of ocean water, 229 feet deep, has a potential mineral value of $96,000,000.

Do You Know How To Turn In An Alarm?

There are times when prompt action is vitally important, and this is doubly so in case of a fire, Fire Chief A. P. McIlwain states

In such an emergency it is well to know how to turn in a fire alarm. Right now before fire strikes, look about you at the fire alarm box nearest your home. If you do not know where it is, make an investigation and find out. Read the directions for sounding an alarm. They are printed on the outside of the box. If you do not understand, ask a fireman or policeman to show you how.

Then, after the alarm is sounded, stay at the box or station someone there to direct the firemen to the scene of the blaze, so that no time will be wasted in getting to the fire.

In using the telephone, find the telephone number of your nearest department. If you do not know the number and a telephone book is not handy, tell the operator "I want to report a fire."

Be accurate and specific. Be sure that the firemen understand where the fire is. Do not get excited because this delays the firemen. Give the exact street and number.

False Alarms

Everyone should be ever alert to prevent prankish children and irresponsible grown-ups from sounding false alarms. They not only endanger the lives of firemen, pedestrians, and others, but also take the firemen and their apparatus away from their stations when they may be vitally needed for actual fires. The sounding of a false alarm is a serious offense, and is punishable by a heavy fine and imprisonment.

HEAVY LOSS WHEN COAL TIPPLE BURNS

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 1.—Fire destroyed the weigh office and tipple of the Briar Hill Coal company, near East Butler, causing loss estimated at $30,000. The fire broke out in the weigh office and was discovered by the night watchman and was believed caused by an overheated stove or possibly a short circuit in the wiring system.

Bus Driver Faces Charges Result Of Fatal Crash

Charges Filed In Sharon As Result Of Death Of Ralph White

SHARON, Pa., Oct. 1.—Charges of involuntary manslaughter were filed on Thursday by Corporal John Witherspoon of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, against James Williams, 21, of Liverpool street, Pittsburgh, driver of a Harmony Short Line bus, which figured in a collision at Bobby's Corners, near here, in which Ralph White, 26, of New Castle, was fatally injured.

Williams will be given a hearing before Justice Alex Elliott of Hickory township. Pending the outcome of the hearing, plans for an inquest into White's death have been held up, according to Dr. William A. Applegate, county coroner.

All Stone Now On New Airport Runway Strips

Workmen Placing Fine Crushed Stone—Will Start Black Top Soon

TAXI RUNWAY IS BEING BUILT NOW

Workmen at the new municipal airport on the Youngstown road have now reached another milestone in their gigantic project. The latest accomplishment at the new port site is the completing of the crushed stone base for all of the runways.

Hundreds of tons of this limestone have been spread on four runway strips, each 100 feet wide. The W. P. A. workmen are now busy spreading the binder stone. This is a very fine, almost pulverized stone and is being spread over the crushed stone base and rolled smooth.

This is the last step before the black top surface is applied to the runways. According to Claude Aiken, acting supervisor, division of operations of the W. P. A., the black top material will be placed on the runways next week.

A taxi runway, which will be used to take planes from the runways to the proposed hangars, is now under construction. Work on this strip started about a week ago and it is rapidly nearing completion.

A careful watch is now being made of the project both day and night. Persons are no longer permitted to walk or ride over the runways, as has been the habit in the past.

After the stone is rolled smooth a person walking over it might loosen one of the stones and that would leave a bump on the completed runway.

Seek Reopening Of Fallston Hill

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 1.—Beaver Falls and New Brighton will join today in a request to District Attorney R. A. McCreary to open the Fallston hill to truck traffic, east and west bound.

Traffic in both communities is congested due to improvement of principal arteries and removal of street car rails. The street cars recently were abandoned and the assets of the trolley company, some $120,000, are being applied by the state highway department to street improvements.

The Fallston hill was closed more than one year ago following several fatal crashes. A new road to eliminate the hill, now is under construction.

CHRISTIAN SONSHIP

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text.

John 1:12—"As many as received him, to them gave he the right to become the children of God, even to them that believe on his name."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lessons for the next three months are to be "Studies in the Christian Life", the lesson for Oct. 3 on the topic "Christian Sonship" being based on I John, chapter 3, with the Golden Text, John 1:12, "As many as received him, to them gave he the right to become children of God, even to them that believe on his name.")

"THE DISCIPLE Jesus loved" is eminently qualified to speak to Jesus' disciples about the requirements of discipleship as he does in this epistle, which, written later than Revelations, is the Holy Spirit's final message to us in the Scriptures.

The Children of God

John never ceased to be amazed at God's love in being willing to adopt us into his family and bestow upon us the standing and privileges of his children. "Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the children of God." This is not our right, but God, in great love bestowed it on us through faith, in which we manifested a desire for membership in God's family. But this family privilege carries with it a certain responsibility, viz., we should resemble somewhat or "take after" the Father whose children we are: "Beloved, now are we children of God, and it is not yet made manifest what we shall be. We know that, if he shall be manifested, we shall be like him; for we shall see him even as he is. And everyone that hath this nope set on him purifieth himself, even as he is pure." The life of purity is required of those who belong to the family of a holy God. Sin will be hated by God's children because "he (Christ) was manifested to take away sins; and in him is no sin.... whosoever abideth in him sinneth not." While the Christian may commit acts of sin he will not permit himself to "keep on sinning" in a state of habitual and willful sin.

The Life of Love

Not only will God's children strive to live lives of holiness but also lives of love. In fact love becomes the proof of our kinship with God: "We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brethren." Brotherly love is the Christian's "grade card" showing he has "passed" in the school of Christ. "My little children, let us not love in word, neither with the tongue; but in deed and truth. Hereby shall we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our heart before him, whereinsoever our heart condemn us." The loveless life not only is a godless life but it brings its condemnation into our own hearts. Furthermore it restricts and hinders our prayer life; "Whatsoever We ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments....And this is his commandment, that we should believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, even as he gave us commandment."

JULIAN GOLDMAN, PIONEER IN POPULARIZING THE CREDIT PLAN

I'm Broadcasting Good News to the Wage-Earners of this City!

For over 26 years, I have devoted my time and energy explaining to the wage-earners of this country how much it is to their advantage to use their credit when buying the necessities of life. I spoke about this wise use of credit from the lecture platform, over the radio and through the newspapers. Therefore, I say to you wage-earners of this city that NOW . . . when prices are rising all around us . . . when you need new clothes . . . is the time for you to turn to your credit.

So here's good news for you who work hard for your money, for you who must budget that pay envelope so that it will go as far as possible. Despite rising costs, there will be no increase in the prices of the smart Fall apparel you can buy at my store. This season, more than ever before, the advance styles and the unusual values of my merchandise are attracting widespread comment from value-wise shoppers.

I assure you the most courteous attention when you come to visit my store. There is no obligation to buy. And if you are convinced, as I am sure that you will be, that it is the most logical place for you to shop, I shall be happy to open a credit account in your name. Payments can be arranged in small weekly amounts to suit your convenience.

Crusade Conference At First Presbyterian On Thursday Of Next Week

Pastors and leaders of Presbyterian churches in New Castle and towns within a radius of 50 miles of this city will attend a 11-hour conference Thursday, October 7, in First Presbyterian church, Rev. John J. McIlvaine, pastor.

The meeting in New Castle is the fourth of a series of Christian Education Crusade Conferences being conducted in Pennsylvania between October 4 and October 22 under the auspices of Pennsylvanina Synod's Committee on Christian Education and the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, which has national headquarters in Philadelphia.

Five leaders who will drive from town to town in automobiles to conduct the Crusade conferences are said to be "the strongest team of Christian Education leaders ever scheduled for the Synod of Pennsylvania." They are: Dr. William Ralph Hall, Dr. Frank D. Getty, Miss Miriam A. Peterson, Miss Florence Rambo, all of Philadelphia; and Dr. Robert J. Black, field representative in the Synod of Pennsylvania for the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education.

The conference in New Castle will open at 10:30 in the morning with a session for pastors. During the early afternoon three simultaneous conferences for children's workers, young people's workers and those responsible for church school administration will be conducted. Later in the afternoon conferences on children's and young people's work will be continued while leaders of adults will consider problems of recruiting, organization, teaching methods and courses of study. An exhibit of lesson materials, illustrated story papers, religious pictures and educational literature will be displayed and explained.

After a fellowship supper, problems involved in making a home Christian, questions concerning the meaning and practice of worship, and the need of securing a greater number of well-trained teachers in the local church will be discussed in three sectional conferences.

Other towns included in the itinerary of the Crusade Conference leaders are: Indiana, Grove City, Sharon and Harrisburg.

Discover Need For New Unusual Industry Here

Sitting round over a cup of coffee a group of gentlemen of New Castle have discovered a need here for an industry that promises relief to a lot of married men, an industry that would improve the appearance of the canine life, and would return big dividends on the capital invested, they hope.

It is a dog laundry.

A place where the family flea trap could be sent to get the mud out of his coat and the cockle burrs out of his tail.

The idea would be to have two units of the dog laundry, the mobile unit which would go from house to house and the stationary unit which would be located in a building and where dogs could be taken for their Saturday night bath.

The idea is limitless in its possibilities. Size, weight and length could be considered in the fee charged. The length of hair would also figure in the cost.

For example, a Great Dane would bring a goodish price for a scrub. Dogs of this kind would be charged according to weight. A daschund on the other hand would be figured at his length from schnozzle to tail tip. Over against these two would be the collie whose price would be determined by the density of his coat.

There must be 12,000 dogs in the county. Figuring a bath every two weeks for each dog, with a few extra tossed in for people who live on dirt streets and you can see what it would mean. The soap market would boom, the consumption of water would rise, the dogs would look better and the originators of the idea would be safely put away in the Napoleon House cutting out paper dolls.

PULASKI

FAREWELL PARTY

One of the largest social events held here for some time was on Tuesday evening when the members of the New Bedford and Pulaski Methodist churches, and many friends gathered at the church for a farewell party in honor of Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Jennings and family. Rev. Jennings has been pastor of the Methodist church here for the past four years moved Thursday morning to Cooperstown where he will have charge of the Methodist church there. The dining room was beautifully decorated with colorful flowers of the fall season and an elaborate dinner was enjoyed at 7:30 at attractively arranged tables one hundred and twenty five were present. Rev. Luther McDonald pastor of the Presbyterian church was toastmaster and opened with singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" Short remarks were made by many different ones present all telling of the friendship formed and the appreciation of the Jennings family while residents of our community. Later they were presented with a substantial purse of money and other smaller gifts. Rev. and Mrs. Jennings both responded thanking each one and telling of the regret of which they feel in leaving the community. The evening closed with all singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Guests were present from Warren, O., Kings Chapel and New Bedford.

PULASKI NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mitcheltree were New Castle visitors on Wednesday.

Mrs. Chas. Mitcheltree and Mrs. George Poppas were New Castle visitors on Tuesday.

MINISTER SPEAKS

Tuesday morning, the first assembly group was very inspired by the speech of the Rev. Phillip C. Pearson of the Trinity Episcopal church. He spoke about the 150th anniversary of our constitution, its significance, and what it should mean to the young Americans of our country.

LIBRARY CAPTAINS NAMED

The new library captain, Joe Greer, has appointed nine students to act as captain for each period in the day. Those appointed are: Jeanne Taylor, Marian Connor, Ed. Kopacz, Rose Nader, Fred Benn, Harriet Hempill, Joan Thompson, Marie Galant and Patricia Bissell.

These pupils take charge of the regular routine duties of the members of the library squad.

GYMNASIUM CLASSES STARTED

Wednesday, September 29, the gymnasium classes commenced for the semester. Miss Margaret Fischer, the new gym instructor, stated that the classes are exceptionally large. The girls have begun square dancing.

A number of girls have enrolled for the physiology course because they are unable to take gym.

GERMAN CLUB

The German club held its first meeting Friday, September 24. As soon as the members had assembled, the meeting was opened by singing of "Die Lorelei," with Virginia Schmidt playing the piano accompaniment.

Miss Riffer, supervisor of the club, appointed a committee to nominate officers for the semester, and as soon as possible an election will be held. The committee consists of: Billy Davis, Jim Lutton and Anna Stevas.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted to listening to an exceedingly interesting talk by a faculty member who toured Germany this summer.

As special guests, students of the first year German classes attended the meeting.

BAND UNIFORMS EXPECTED

Prof. Joseph Replogle announced today that the new band uniforms are expected to arrive any day now.

A collection was taken in each session room Wednesday, for the purpose of purchasing a United States flag to be used by the band.

It has been announced by Principal Frank L. Orth that, at present, 1,960 students are enrolled.

JUBILEE SINGERS

Thursday morning there was an assembly for the Assembly Group II. They were entertained by a quartet of negro singers from Chicago. Their songs consisted of negro spirituals and well-known folk songs.

FRENCH CLUB

Miss Kelley, French teacher, announced that there will be two French clubs this semester. Each club held a meeting last week and elected their club officers.

Those elected in the Senior French club are as follows: Victor Cabas, president; Dorothy McElroy, secretary; Emma Lou Kleckner, treasurer, and Edward Fortney, program chairman.

Edward Fortney is assisted in his duties by the following committee: Dick Johns, Hazel Burry, Lillian Young and Elnora Palmer.

The officers selected by the Junior French club are: Marion Connor, president; Sam Davy, secretary; Irene Warso, treasurer, and Sue Zedo, program chairman.

Sue Zedo's assistants consist of Sally Wilson, Frances Loy, Lois Leddy and Kathryn Boya.

G. R. MEETINGS RESUMED

Monday, September 26, opened a new season for the Ne-Ca-Hi Girl Reserves club. The president, Elizabeth Yingling, had charge of the meeting. She introduced Jane Haven and Anna Mae Ditterlie who told something of the interesting work the club will do this semester.

The meeting was then adjourned due to the fact that the girls had to register and be enrolled in the club.

STUDENTS RECEIVE PENNANTS

Bright red and black pennants will be a new attractive note at the football game when the Rooters' club members cheer the team on to victory with them. These striking emblems will not only replace the handkerchiefs which have been waved at the games, but will also designate the club members.

Last Chance To Register

Saturday Affords Final Opportunity To Enroll For Fall Election

Saturday, October 2, tomorrow, is the last day for voters of New Castle and Lawrence County to register for the general election to be held Tuesday, November 2. All those voters who are not on the books by nine o'clock Saturday night will be unable to vote on November 2.

In order to aid voters in getting their names on the book in time to vote, Chief Clerk Thomas C. Edmunds, of the registration commission will keep his office in the court house open until nine o'clock Saturday night. This is the final opportunity to register for the 1937 general election.

Permanent Registration

The registration is a permanent one, not subject to renewal unless the voters moves from the precinct, moves to another home in the precinct or changes his party affiliation.

In the city the potential vote is fairly well registered. There are still a few not on the books, but not many. In the rural districts the proportion is not nearly so heavy. The boros of the county account for a great deal of the registration but the purely agricultural sections are sparsely registered as yet.

There is no possibility of a rural voter getting registered at the polls as he has done before. He must be registered in the county offices and he must be registered before nine o'clock Saturday night.

Registration is a simple matter. It requires little time but in the light of the importance of the coming election it is of vital importance to voters.

A judge will be named to sit for ten years on the bench of Lawrence County. A sheriff will be named, a register and recorder, two jury commissioners, a district attorney, two city councilmen, three school directors and a city controller. All of them are important offices.

To vote for them one must be registered and Saturday October 2 is the last day. The election is four weeks next Tueday.

Place Guard At Black's Office

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—A strong protective guard was thrown around the supreme court today in anticipation of Justice Hugo L. Black entering his office in the huge, marble building.

Two police guards were stationed in the rear of the structure to protect the justice in the event he should enter by the doors most frequently used by justices.

Additional guards patrolled the corridors, with one stationed in the vicinity of the justice's private office.

Rev. Swanson, who was located at Kennedy, N. Y., about 10 miles below Jamestown, exchanged charges with Rev. W. Scott Ingersoll.

The News, By Mail, One Year, $5.00

Mail Delivery Here Is Half Century Old

October 1, 1887, was a momentous day in New Castle, for just fifty years ago today, free delivery of mail was instituted in New Castle.

The event is vivid in the memory of one of the first carriers, W. S. Rice, of Croton avenue, who carried the first letters that residents of the Second ward had delivered to them. Prior to that time, they had to go to the post office after their mail.

Five carriers covered the entire city and did not find it such a difficult job. Today, it requires in the neighborhood of 40 men to carry out the task, and often they find it quite burdensome. At the Christmas season, this force has to be augmented by extra carriers.

In addition to Mr. Rice, the other carriers on that first day were Douglas McIlvenny, Dan Mooney, George R. Dufford and Luke Eagan. Mr. Rice covered the entire Second ward; McIlvenny had the Third ward, which was all the territory north of Washington and Oak street and east of the Neshannock; Dufford covered the First ward; Eagan had the West Side and upper side of Washington street, and Mooney took care of what is now the Fourth and Fifth wards.

The Second ward extended only to Moody avenue in those days, in fact the big green house on the right hand side of Highland avenue, between Moody and Winter avenues, where Roger W. Rowland now lives, was a farm house. There were few houses east of Highland avenue on any of the side streets above Lincoln avenue.

As Mr. Rice recalls it, the men who clerked in the post office and handled the incoming and outgoing mail were Albert Henry, Frank Schulz and John Butz.

The electric generating capacity of the United States is approximately one-third greater than that of Great Britain, Canada, Germany, France, Russia, Italy and Japan combined. This estimate was made by the U. S. National Resources committee.

An individual idea in suede and tweed combinations is the reversible coat with suede on one side and tweed on the other.

OUT AGAIN, IN AGAIN, IS LOCAL MAN'S FATE

SHARON, Pa., Oct. 1.—Picked up for panhandling by Officers Thomas and McCormick yesterday, William Taylor, 7½ South Jefferson street, New Castle, was returned to Sharon jail for the third time in a little over a month.

The case of Mr. Taylor presents some peculiar aspects. According to police records he was drunk and panhandling on August 23. Arrested by Officer McManus, he was sentenced to 30 days in Mercer jail, which would allow him his freedom on September 22.

However, Captain Paul R. Shaffer picked the gentleman up on Chestnut avenue September 11.

On the now-familiar charge he was sent to Mercer jail yesterday for 15 days in lieu of fine.

Still, Black might as well belong to the Klu Klux people if he has to belong to somebody.

Penn State Plans Traffic Officers Training School

Second Annual Affair Has Been Set For April 25 To May 6

(Special To The News)

STATE COLLEGE, Oct. 1.—Plans are being made for the second annual traffic officers' training school to be conducted next spring.

Lieut. Frank M. Kreml, director of the safety division, has promised the cooperation of that organization in the second endeavor of the college to aid Pennsylvania cities and boroughs in the solution of their traffic safety problems.

Last spring over 50 traffic officers from all parts of the state enrolled in the first school of its kind ever held in the commonwealth. Col. Lawrence B. Tipton of the Northwestern University traffic institute, was in charge.

The dates for this year's sessions have been set at April 25 to May 6, 1938, by Dr. H. F. Alderfer, executive secretary of the Institute of Local Government at Penn State.

MILLBURN

GRANGE NEWS

The first and second degrees of the grange were conferred on Mr. and Mrs. Francis Drenning and Morris Barner at the last meeting of Millburn Grange. Several of the local grangers were among the candidates for the fifth degree at the meeting in Mercer on Tuesday evening.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB

The Ladies Friendship club held the last afternoon meeting of the year at the Grange hall on Thursday. Plans for the year were discussed and a delicious lunch served by the committee consisting of Mesdames Edith Neal, Mildred Ransey, Emma Bougher and Hilda Spencer.

MILLBURN NOTES

E. L. Ramsey of Chicago, spent several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ramsey.

Miss Naomi Jordan, of Grove City, was a week end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jordan.

Dr. W. G. Waddell of Beaver Falls, and W. E. Rowland of Pittsburgh, spent Wednesday at the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mayne and family of Mercer, and Harry Masters of Denver, Colorado, called in the Weaver home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wolbert and daughter, of Uniontown, spent the week end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wolbert.

Mrs. Martha Lock of New Castle, who has spent several weeks with her cousin, Mrs. A. W. Weaver, returned home the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Patterson of Avella, were Saturday guests of H. L. Patterson and family, who accompanied them to Imperial on Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. O. D. Torrence, of Westview, Pittsburgh, and Kenneth Canfield of Detroit, Mich., were recent callers in the W. I. Blake home.

Mrs. Charles Allen and Mrs. Lewis McFarland, daughter Eleanor, of Warren, O., were recent callers in the Cummings home. Mrs. L. M. Cummings is ill.

Mrs. E. L. Ramsey was hostess to the ladies of the Balm Lutheran church recently at which time a large quantity of apple butter was made and given to the Children's Home at Mercer, and the home for the aged at Mars.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Taylor of East Brook, visited their aunt, Mrs. Joshua Patterson Sunday. Mrs. Paul Pesek and daughter Rose, were callers in the Patterson home.

Miss Mary Stewart and her brother, Wightman, motored to Monongahela Friday with their grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wightman, who concluded a visit in the Stewart home.

Miss Cora Hartt and Mrs. Margaret Porter of Erie, Miss Margery Lloyd and Miss Roth of Beaver Falls, Rev. and Mrs. G. K. Monroe and children of West Alexander, were guests during the week of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hartt.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Anderson and son, Elmer, and Mrs. Anderson's sister, Mrs. Nancy Huffman, motored to Westmoreland county, where they visited Mrs. Anderson's brother, F. S. Maharg.

Mrs. W. J. Blake and Mrs. R. W. Cunningham of Leesburg, were the local representatives at the meeting of the North West District of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican women, held at Erie last week at the Lawrence Hotel.

College Handbook Is Being Issued At Westminster

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 1.—Containing library regulations, social standards, and more traditions than before, the 1937 Westminster handbook-directory will make its appearance this week, according to Floyd Ewalt, Polk, editor of the Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. sponsored volume.

The handbook will consist of five feature sections: College, student government, organizations, athletics and songs and yells. The directory part will contain the name, home address, school address and telephone of all students and faculty members.

Editor Ewalt, aided by Evelyn Chambers, Beaver, associate editor, and James Shear, Pittsburgh, business manager, intends to distribute the books along with "dinks" (blue and white freshman hats) to freshmen, and dispose of the surplus to upperclassmen.

Taylor And Rowland To Attend Debate Meeting At Capital

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 1.—Glenn A. Taylor, coach of the Westminster College debate team, and Rex Rowland, New Castle, junior varsity debater, will attend the annual meeting of the National Debating Association at Harrisburg, October 2, to select the question for this year's debating season.

Jack Harris, Aliquippa; Charles Shaffer, Mahoningtown; Robert Henderson, Avalon, and Sidney Isenberg, Sharon, other varsity debaters, are making plans for an invitational debate tournament at Westminster early in December. Fifteen colleges are expected to compete in this pre-season tournament.

Although many Soviet Union women are doing "masculine" work, the nation's cosmetic demand has been rising steadily.

Gas Company Rate Hearing Nearing End

Public Utilities Commission Hears More About Rates Charged For Natural Gas

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—Initial hearings on rates of Pittsburgh district Natural Gas companies before the public utilities commission were expected to be completed here today.

Heading the companies today ordered to show cause why rates should not be reduced was the Peoples Natural Gas Company. Others ordered to produce details of incorporations and organizations now combined in each utility, inventories and appraisals were the T. W. Phillips Gas and Oil Company, Beaver-Butler Natural Gas Company and the Acme Natural Gas Company.

Extensive Probe

The commission's probe includes investigation of 104 companies. Companies already given initial hearings will be further called when each presents inventories and appraisals ordered. The single local concern producing full information was the Union Heat and Light Company, of Grove City. The required data was presented at yesterday's hearings.

Neither the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company nor the Manufacturers Gas Company were prepared to present complete data.

These utilities along with the Equitable Gas Company, Duquesne Natural Gas Company and the Ambridge Natural Gas Company reported several months will be required to complete the required report. Further hearings will be called by the commission.

Proclamation Is Issued By Mayor

Urges Observance Of Loyalty Days On October 2 And 3, In Proclamation

Mayor Charles E. McGrath today issued a proclamation asking that citizens of New Castle observe Loyalty days, October 2 and 3, it being the desire that every citizen attend some house of worship on either day.

The proclamation was issued as a result of Loyalty day which is sponsored by the National Committee for Religion and Welfare recovery.

The proclamation follows:

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the world is now passing through one of the greatest changes in history and there is a growing conviction that the great scientific, economic and social development of the times may prove of doubtful permanent value unless there can be commensurate strengthening of the moral and spiritual welfare of the majority; and

WHEREAS, spiritual recovery through the maintenance of our spiritual ideals, moral standards and character-building institutions is no less important than the recovery of economic prosperity; and

WHEREAS, our city, state and nation have acknowledged and recognized the constant need of divine guidance in the fulfillment of our ideals:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Charles E. McGrath, Mayor of New Castle, hereby proclaim Saturday and Sunday, October 2 and 3, 1937, as Loyalty days, and do urge that all of our citizens, regardless of creed, attend church on those days, and participate in the special services planned for the days.

Signed this first day of Oct., 1937.

CHAS. E. McGRATH,
Mayor.

Many Pawnshops Are Folding Up

New Law That Goes Into Effect Today Makes It Tougher For Pawnbrokers

(International News Service)

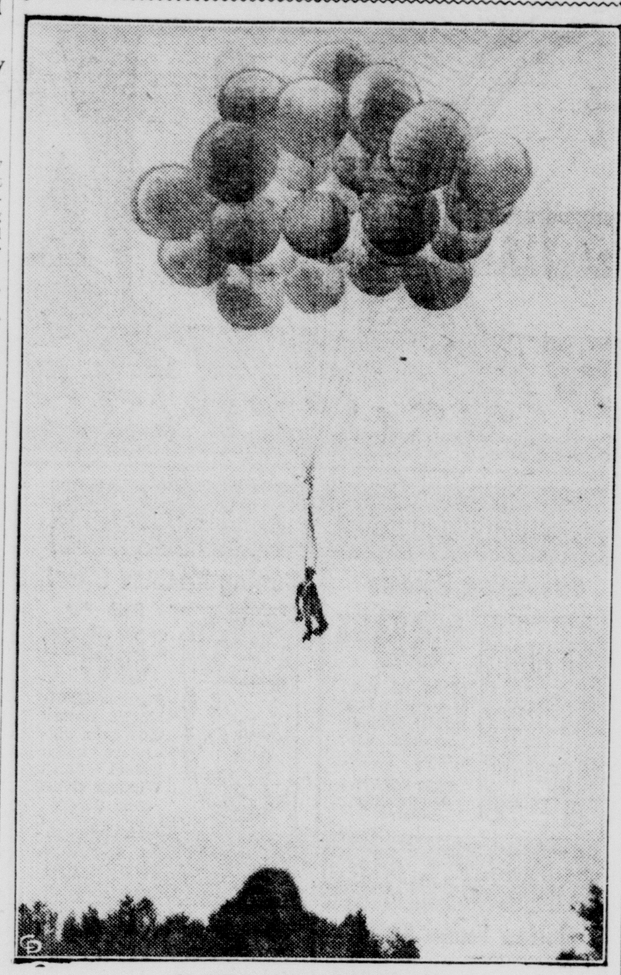

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—The sign of the "three-ball" took on a new meaning for those Pennsylvanians in need of ready cash.

The Brancato Pawnbroker Law went into effect today reducing interest rates for borrowing money in pawnshops to one of the lowest levels in the country—18 per cent a year on jewelry and 36 per cent on other collateral.

Only a few shops will be operating today. Fifty-seven have secured injunctions against the state, with only a handful meeting legal requirements by obtaining licenses. A large group have not applied for licenses and will be ordered to close, according to banking secretary Luther A. Harr, unless they comply with the law.

The suits to make the injunctions permanent will be argued here October 11.

So He Ran For His Gun, And—

AL MINGALONE IN THE AIR

Because a Catholic priest at Orchard Beach, Me., is a "dead shot" with the rifle, Al Mingalone, newsreel cameraman, is alive today. Mingalone, who went aloft with a cluster of hydrogen-filled balloons to "shoot" pictures from a "balloonist's point of view," was being carried away when Father James J. Mullen saw his plight and punctured two of the balloons, allowing Mingalone to descend to earth 13 miles from his starting point. A safety line, anchoring Mingalone to the ground, snapped in a squall, carrying the cameraman away. (P. S.) Mingalone failed to get his pictures—he dropped his camera during the squall.

Woman Battles To Escape Sentence Of Death In Chair

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1—Mrs. Margaret Karmendi of Altoona, sentenced to death in the electric chair for the killing of her three-year old son, Matthew, today fought before the state supreme court here to escape the distinction of being the second woman in the history of Pennsylvania to be electrocuted.

Her attorney, Frank J. Reiser, Sr. asked the court to grant her a chance of venue to another county and a new trial, which would be her third. Previously granted a new trial, she was again convicted of helping her paramour, Roy Lockard, to kill the boy with a railroad spike in the fear he might tell her husband of the clandestine romance. Lockard is also awaiting electrocution.

Reiser charged that "the refusal of the court below to grant a change of venue after the regular panel of jurors had been exhausted without obtaining a jury" was an error on the part of Judge Marion D. Patterson which entitled Mrs. Karmendi to a new trial.

AROUND CITY HALL

When council met yesterday a Sixth ward property owner requested that an investigation into the taxes of a property, divided owing to a will, be made. The person stated that since the division, their property, which she considers far less value than the other parcel has been assessed much more than the parcel she considers much more valuable than the property they received.

ULTIMATE IN AUTHORITY!

"Now tell me," said the teacher of history, "which ruler do you think commands the most respect?"

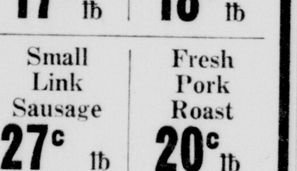

"Please, Miss, I think the one you are holding," replied Tommy.

Four Amendments Are Up For Vote

State-Wide Issues For November 2 Election Begin To Crystalize

Earle Removes Proposed Fifth Amendment For $42,000,000 Bond Issue

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—Statewide issues for the No. 2 "off year" election began to crystallize today.

Although the election contests are purely local, four proposed amendments to the constitution will command the voters' attention, a fifth having been eliminated yesterday by the Earle administration.

They are: (1) To permit enactment of a graded income and inheritance tax, (2) to remove the five-year "time lock" in submitting amendments to the electorate, (3) to pave the way for the consolidation of Philadelphia's city and county governments, (4) to "legalize" mother's assistance and old age pension appropriations.

Gov. George H. Earle eliminated the fifth amendment, providing for a $42,000,000 bond issue for institutional building when the general state authority decided to sell $55,000,000 in bonds to state funds to assure immediate construction. Although the amendment will be on the ballot, it is expected to die a natural death.

The Democratic organization already has taken the stump for the electorate's approval of the other four amendments, all of which, if received favorably by the voters, will pave the way for enabling legislation at the coming special session of the legislature.

Stand Not Announced.

The Republican organization has not as yet announced its stand on these issues but, privately, G. O. P. leaders have confided that the income tax amendment will be opposed by them.

G. Edward Green, G. O. P. state chairman, said these may be decided upon after a series of week-end conferences he contemplates.

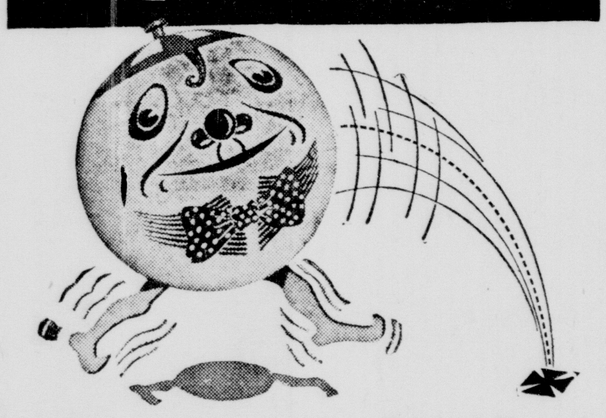

The Republicans successfully opposed Governor Earle's proposal to re-write the 1874 state constitution in 1935. One of the objectives at that time was a graded income and inheritance tax.

Governor Earle is expected to make a radio address shortly urging the approval of the four amendments and the defeat of the fifth.

Semler Magazine Case Is Placed In Jury's Hands

Defendant Tells Of Efforts He Had To Keep Within The Law

After a charge by Judge W. Walter Braham at Lawrence county court this forenoon, the case of the commonwealth against W. A. Semler, charged by Mary H. Ellis with selling obscene literature, went to the jury.

During the trial on Thursday afternoon Mrs. Ellis read to the jury extracts from certain magazines that had been found in the possession of Mr. Semler. There was considerable sameness in the articles read, despite the fact that they were from different magazines.

W. A. Semler, in his own defense, testified that he had no intention of violating the law. He said that he had received the magazines along with several hundred others for which he is a dealer.

Some time ago, long before the present case was brought, a question regarding the matter in some of the magazines had arisen in his mind and he had gone to District Attorney Mont L. Ailey to get an opinion as to whether or not they should be offered for sale. He said that Mr. Ailey had agreed that some of the articles appeared to be "off color," but had given him no definite opinion as to whether or not they were in the prohibited class. Sometime later he said that he had received from Mr. Ailey a list of magazines that seemed to be objectionable.

District Attorney Ailey was placed upon the witness stand by the defense this morning and corroborated the statements of Mr. Semler, that the latter had conferred with him regarding the magazines.

Postmaster Richard A. Steen was called by the defense to explain to the jury what is meant by second class mail matter. Most of the magazines had been entered as second class mail matter, but there were some which had not been entered.

In his arguments to the jury William Cobau, who with J. Glenn Berry, represent the defendant, argued that the testimony did not show that there had been any wilful disposition to violate the law shown by Mr. Semler, as evidenced by his visits to the district atttorney's office before the prosecution was brought. He argued that if Mr. Semler had been notified that the magazines were objectionable, before the information was brought, he would have stopped their sale.

Arguments for the prosecution were made by Assistant District Attorney Errol Fullerton, who dwelt particularly on the objectionable matter in the magazine and the effect it was likely to have on the morals of those who read it.

East Side Garden Club Makes Awards To Students Today

Rose Avenue Pupils Win Awards For Flower And Vegetable Growing Contest

East Side Garden club women distributed prize trees this morning to students who entered in their "School Garden Contest of East Side Schools" at a special assembly conducted in the auditorium of the Rose Avenue school.

Students entered from this institution, together with Thaddeus Stevens and W. N. Aiken schools, and the winners were selected from a group of ten different gardens.

Miss Maxine Ritchie of Rose avenue was winner of the vegetable prize, and William Pelini of Beckford street, won the prize for his flower garden. Both are students of Rose Avenue school. The presentations were made by Mrs. C. R. Brenner, president of the East Side Garden club, at an impromptu but impressive assembly.

Judge were, Edna Robinson of the Mahoning Valley Garden club, and Karl Schmidt, an authority on flowers.

The committee in charge, composed of Mrs. Kathryn McIntyre and Mrs. J. A. Wilson.

Medical Student Is Killed During Fencing Match

(International News Service)

PARIS, Oct. 1.—The death of 24-year-old Rene Moral, brilliant young medical student, has temporarily dampened enthusiasm here for the sport of fencing.

Moral, one of the finest fencers in France, was killed during a match with Haro Oliva, a young Mexican student, at the Palais des Sports. It was a bizarre tragedy.

Twice, the Frenchman had touched his Mexican adversary. Brilliantly, he was attacking for the third time for what seemed certain victory. Oliva parried a violent thrust. Force of the contact broke the Mexican's rapier. The unprotected end of the slender weapon sank deep in Moral's chest.

Blood gushed from Moral's mouth and chest. He managed to stagger to a chair. He was rushed to a hospital where he died. His heart had been pierced.

Austrian scientists believe that a new ointment, made from poison glands of certain snakes, is an effective remedy against the common cold.

Kosher Butcher Shops May Close In New York City

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Closing of some 4,500 kosher butcher shops in New York and three New Jersey counties at sundown tomorrow as a protest against high meat prices appeared a certainty today.

Commissioner of Markets William Fellowes Morgan was unable to persuade officials of the Federation of Kosher Butchers to postpone the strike until his department could investigate charges that the packers were exploiting the scarcity of prime meat at the expense of retailers.

The Federation reported it lacked proper authority to put off the stoppage. It added that member butchers favored the protest almost unanimously because if they did not act themselves, irate consumers soon would "close their stores for them."

Broderick Resigns From Reserve Post

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, President Roosevelt today accepted the resignation of J. E. Broderick of New York as member of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve bank. At Broderick's request, the resignation became effective yesterday. Broderick, it was announced here, will become the new president of the East River Savings bank of New York.

PENALTY EFFECTIVE

There is now a five per cent penalty on 1937 delinquent school taxes and a penalty of four per cent on 1937 city taxes, according to City and School Treasurer C. C. McKibben.

Pastor And Wife Honored Thursday By Congregation

Reception Honors Rev. And Mrs. C. H. Hagadorn, In Mahoning M. E. Church

To honor their minister and his wife and family, 250 members of the Mahoning Methodist church congregation met in the church parlors Thursday evening. The reception was to welcome Rev. C. H. Hagadorn back to the church at the beginning of another conference year.

Rev. D. C. Schnebly and Rev. Milton Shearer, Presbyterian and Christian ministers took charge of the religious portion of the reception program.

After meeting in the upstairs rooms of the church for greetings, the members were invited to the downstairs parlors where delicious refreshments were served. Here the sessions was turned over to the toastmaster of the evening, J. M. Yates.

Toastmaster Yates called upon Mrs. John Waddell who gave a speech of welcome to Rev. Hagadorn and his family. Rev. Hagadorn spoke to his congregation thanking them for their thoughtfulness and appreciation of his services.

Various other members of the congregation were called upon and gave short talks. A highspot on the program was a playlet entitled, "The Began Cure," with the following taking part: Mrs. C. A. DeReamer, Mrs. Ralph Taylor, Mrs. Roy Horseman, Mrs. M. P. Olmstead, Mrs. O. C. Mauck, Mrs. J. M. Conn, Mrs. Wilbur King, Mrs. Clark Godwin, and Mrs. James Westman.

Others on the program included Miss Patricia Anne Taylor in a reading, a piano solo by Virginia Stump, a reading by Betty Lou Rohrer, and a violin solo by Ida Mitchell.

At the close of the program, Toastmaster Yates presented Rev. Hagadorn and his wife with a beautiful floor lamp, a gift from the congregation. Rev. Hagadorn gave a short talk at this time, thanking those present again for their thoughtfulness.

Boycott Against Japan Planned

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—A nation-wide boycott of Japanese goods will be started at a mass meeting in Madison Square Garden tonight. Twenty thousand persons, including most of Chinatown, will attend the meeting, held in protest against Nippon's invasion of China.

Notables attending will include William E. Dodd, ambassador to Germany, and Luise Rainer, film actress.

PROFESSOR GIVES NEW DEFINITION OF PERSONALITY

BERKELEY, Cal.—Professor William A. Smith of the University of California education department today announced what he termed "a new definition of personality."

"It is the sum total of what the individual has come to be through education, the home, the school and the community," Professor Smith said.

"Personality is taken on from the outside. Inheritance merely determines the capacity of the individual to absorb the influence which make personality.

"Science is leaning more and more towards the belief that it is environment and not inheritance that makes our personalities."

JUST OLD STUFF

"Oh, sergeant, it must take wonderful presence of mind to open your parachute after you've fallen so far?"

"I find it very monotonous madam. I used to run an express elevator in a skyscraper."

Strictly Tailored

Louise Hovick, recent acquisition to the screen, chooses a strictly tailored suit to set off her statuesque beauty. The jacket is single breasted and slightly fitted, and is worn with a tailored blouse with white collar. The up-turned brim of her hat is softened by a veil. This suit is worn later under a fur coat.

A crisp white pique bolero is very chic topping a navy sheer dress.

Registration Clerk, Thomas Edmunds, announces that the registration bureau will be kept open until 9 o'clock Saturday evening in order to give those who are at work during the day, a chance to register. Saturday is the last day on which electors can register and be able to vote at the November election. It is estimated that there are still between seven and eight thousand voters in the county whose names are not yet on the books. Those who are coming in to register make no explanation of why they did not register when registrations were held in their districts, and it is not within the province of the clerk to ask. It seems that no concerted attempt has been made by either political parties to get out the full registration, and many voters are indifferent.

Expense accounts of candidates at the recent primary have been filed at the county commissioners office as follows: Howard E. Wilson, tax collector, Ellwood City, $74. Toney E. Turner, burgess Ellwood City, $99.88. B. I. French, council, New Castle, $66.34. John G. Lamoree, district attorney, $379.10. Where the expense account does not exceed fifty dollars the candidate does not need to file an itemized account, but files an account certifying that the did not spent that amount. Candidates who have filed are Robert E. Callahan, borough audtior, Ellwood City; John T. Young, justice of Peace, Ellwood City; Wallace J. Ewing, alderman in second ward, New Castle, and William J. Nagel, tax collector, Ellwood City.

In the matter of the estate of the late Walter L. Harris, of Ellwood City in which Thomas F. Harris and Harry A. Harris are executors, and in which there is a dispte as to the ownership of the Ellwood City News stand at the time of Mr. Harris' death, Judge W. Walter Braham has directed that an issue be framed to try the question of who owned the company, and whether or not the assets should be included in the final account of the executors, as an asset of the estate. In the issue framed Lois Harris, Thomas F. Harris and Harry A. Harris are to be plantiffs and Jennie E. Harris defendant. The case will be tried at either the October or the November terms of court.

Petition to open judgement has been filed by W. H. Cooper one of the defendants named in the case of Harold M. Leach against W. H. Cooper and Louella Cooper. The case grew out of the confession on a judgement note for $60 by Leach. In his petition to open the judgement, Cooper alleges that he never signed the note on which the confession has been made and is not indebted to the plaintiff. In granting a rule Judge Braham stayed a sheriff's writ against the property of Cooper, located at 109 South Jefferson street.

In the estate of the late James W. Woods, in which Attorney C. W. Fenton is executor, the court has approved a sale of property on West Washington street to John A. and Phoebe C. Earl for $5,000.

Law relating to the abatement of delinquent taxes under the act of 1936 has been clarified by a superior court ruling this week in a case that was carried up from Allegheny county. The case involved a sheriff's sale of property owned by one Michael DeRosa. The property was sold by the sheriff for an individual creditor but the court holds that the Allegheny county school board is still entitled to penalties and interest on taxes in cases of forced sale, despite the act of 1936. The Allegheny county courts had ruled that the money was not payable to the board due to the act of 1936 from which an appeal was taken. Judge William H. Keller, in his overruling opinion held that the 1936 act, which permitted taxpayers to make up their back taxes, without interest or penalties over a given period because of conditions during the depression, contained nothing that would change the 1923 act's provision providing that penalties and interest must be paid out of judicial sale proceeds before any other obligations. The opinion is of interest to all counties of the state.

Tube Invented For Race Horses

(International News Service)

SALEM, N. H., Oct. 1.—Introduction at Rockingham Park of a European device known as the "Irish tube" promised today to make winners out of wind-broken race horses.

The new device had its successful introduction Monday when Crop, three-year-old wind-broken gelding owned by Mr. Susan B. Preece, flashed home the victor in the second race with the "Irish tube" in his throat.

In using the new device, an opening an inch in diameter is made in the horse's throat, extending back to the wind-pipe. The tube is then inserted. A slide arrangement in the tube governs the air supply to the horse's lungs. It is said the tube causes the horse no harm or discomfort.

State Building Program Tape Is Severed Today

State Authority Ready To Proceed With Its Long Talked About Building Program

TOTAL SUM IS NEAR $65,000,000

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—The general state authority today cut away the last piece of "red tape" that has delayed actual construction of its $65,000,000 institutional building program.

As a result of yesterday's decision to shun PWA funds for borrowing purposes and to sell $55,000,000 of bonds to the state teachers' and state employes' retirement fund, the authority was ready to go forward with its long-contemplated program without further delay.

As reported exclusively at International News Service when the program was first announced last year, the authority had been beset with financial difficulties for months and had been seeking to take this course for some time.

The authority, therefore, will receive an outright grant of $10,000,000 from PWA and up to $10,000,000 for relief labor. Just how much of the second $10,000,000 the state will receive is still a question.

Offered Ignored

PWA has offered to loan the authority up to $50,000,000 at four per cent interest. Ignoring the offer, as it has been anticipated by fiscal experts, the authority still will pay four per cent interest on the bonds but the state as a whole will save at least $1,000,000 in fees.

[illegible] the commonwealth would have been forced to make up a difference of some $11,000,000 in interest to the two state funds in that it has outstanding $35,000,000 in government and municipal bonds yielding only 2.8 per cent. The state law requires a four per cent guarantee.

The administration, therefore, has decided to seek the defeat of a constitutional amendment providing for a $42,000,000 bond issue for institutional building purposes.

Promises New Developments In Lindbergh Case

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Black eyes snapping, Private Detective Julius B. Braun today promised "world astounding developments" in the Lindbergh case.

"We can identify the man whose footprints were recorded at the spot where the body of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., was found and who never was questioned in the case," he said. "We hope to find, any day now, another man definitely connected with the kidnaping but never questioned."

Braun has given practically all of his time for 19 months past to aiding Mrs. Anna Hauptmann in her announced attempt "not to rest until the name of Bruno Richard Hauptmann is cleared" of the crime for which he was sent to the chair.

Favorable Trade Balance Shown

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—The United States registered a favorable trade balance of $31,988,000 in August, when imports totalled $245,707,000, and exports were valued at $277,695,000, the commerce department reported today.

For the entire year, however, the nation has rolled up the huge unfavorable trade margin of $111,923,000. At the end of August, 1936, the American import margin was only $38,312,000.

First Arrest For Alleged Violation Of New State Law

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1—The commonwealth today announced the first arrest of an employer for allegedly violating the Pennsylvania unemployment compensation law.

Special agents of the division of unemployment compensation and employment service served information which led to the arrest of Benjamin Sulkin, Easton textiler, and warrants were served for his arrest.

The state contended that Sulkin, trading as the Morris Silk Company, failed and refused to make required contributions or furnish reports required by law.

Sulkin was released on $5,000 bail, hearing was set for October 6, in Easton. The Morris company employs some 80 to 100 persons.

"IT'S GREAT NOT TO NEED DOSE OF SODA AFTER EVERY MEAL"

This New Castle Man Used To Suffer Agonies From Excess acid In Stomach That Caused Gas, Bloating, Sour risings And Cramps. Declares Vendol Finest Medicine He Ever Tried.

MR. MIKE MEHALIC

"I used to suffer agonies from acid indigestion and after every meal would have to take a dose of soda, magnesia or pepsin, but not any more," said Mr. Mike Mehalic of 1802 S. Jefferson St., employed at the New Castle Refractories, to the Vendol Man who has headquarters in New Castle Drug Co., where he daily explains all about this great Root, Herb and Alkaline medicine to scores of people.

"The gas would press around my heart and make it beat fast and cause shortness of breath. I had a bloated uncomfortable feeling like my stomach was full of gas, fermentation and undigested food. I had sharp cramps which I'm sure came from the gas. Sometimes I'd belch up particles of food. This condition kept me from sleeping sound so I awakened nearly every morning feeling pretty bad following a restless night. I was constipated all the time and this was no doubt causing all the troubles.

"Such high praise was given Vendol and the little Vendol laxative tablets that I got a treatment and this medicine has given more relief than anything I ever took. It relieved my constipation, then everything else seemed to fade out.

"Vendol acted so nicely that I never have gas, pains, sour stomach or acid risings. I haven't needed a dose of soda in a long time.

"I sleep sound, awaken feeling refreshed and ready for the day's work and I've had such a thorough, pleasant cleansing from Vendol that I feel better than in years."

That is what nearly everyone says that takes a few bottles of Vendol, the famous Root, Herb and Alkaline medicine. It acts promptly and gives the most satisfying results.

Give this wonderful compound of Nature's Roots and Herbs mixed with Valuable Alkalines a chance to help you like it has done for so many people right here in town. The Vendol Man invites you to call at New Castle Drug Co., 35 E. Washington St., and let him explain all about it and get a free sample. Vendol is also sold by New Castle Drug at 24 N. Mill St., Schweitzer's Phcy., Ellwood City, and by all other leading druggists everywhere.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

PIG CLUB EXHIBITS

Members of the North Beaver and Wilmington 4-H clubs held their annual exhibit and round-up on Saturday, September 25. The North Beaver show was held at the farm of Guy Fullerton, and the New Wilmington group at the home of Walter Kendall, Wilmington township.

R. M. Gridley, county agent of Beaver county, judged the pigs and scored each one for individual merit.

The plan of the 4-H club is for each member to compete against a perfect score of 100 instead of against each other. The division of the perfect score is 50 per cent for management practices followed during the summer; 20 per cent for daily gain in weight of the pig; 15 per cent for show ring merit; 5 per cent on feeding; 5 per cent on showmanship and 5 per cent for the record turned in on the summer's work.

First place awards are given for scores between 90 and 100 per cent; second place awards for scores between 80 and 89 per cent, and third place awards for scores between 70 and 79 per cent.

In the North Beaver group, Howard Gwin received a first award, while Wilbur McCurley, Raymond McCurley and Willis McCurley each received a second place award, and Norman Gleghorn received a third place award.

In the Wilmington group, Walter Kendall, Duane Johnston and Mickey Malaniak received first awards, and Robert Wilson and Russell Wilson each received second place awards.

SIMPLE MEASURES HELP CONTROL SOIL EROSION

It is not too late for Lawrence county farmers to carry out one or two simple erosion practices at little or no extra cost.

Corn and potato fields which usually lie bare over winter are subject to severe erosion. A vegetative cover, such as wheat or rye, can be sown after the crops are off and still make sufficient growth to reduce soil loss and provide considerable material to plow down in the spring.

Careful field fitting is not necessary when seeding cover crops. Perhaps only a harrowing will be needed before broadcasting or drilling the seed. Where several tilled crops must be grown in succession, a winter cover crop will help greatly to reduce erosion and maintain soil organic matter and good tilth.

EVERGREENS USED FOR FOUNDATION PLANTING

During the early fall and spring shown in the ornamentation of the home grounds.

Evergreens have a fascination for many home owners. In many instances evergreens are considered more expensive than decidious shrubs This is due to the fact that a longer period of time is required for evergreens to grow high enough to be used effectively for foundation planting.

For background planting adjacent to the foundation wall and within 2 or 3 feet from the wall such plants as the American pyramid arborvitae, keteleer and cannart junipers, Chinese juniper and sawara retinosporas are suggested. As a filler in front of these plants such materials as dwarfed mugho pine, pfitizer juniper, spreading Japanese yew, trmarix leaved juniper, andorra juniper, or globular forms of arborvitaes and retinosporas may be used. Where there is considerable shade the upright yew, the spreading Japanese yew and some varieties of junipers, as well as arborvitaes, may be used.

The use of pines, firs and spruces adjacent to the foundation of the house should be discouraged since such trees tend to outgrow their position rather quickly and within a few years must be either cut out or entirely removed thus destroying the effect which one attempts to produce.

STRAWBERRIES ARE GROWN WIDELY IN PENNSYLVANIA

Strawberries may be successfully grown in all parts of Pennsylvania Commercial production is somewhat concentrated within easy trucking distance of the more densely populated areas.

The state is second to none in number of good local markets, and comparatively few of the strawberries produced in Pennsylvania are sold outside its borders.

This proximity to market is a distinct advantage to the Pennsylvania grower in offering for sale in good condition a comparatively perishable product, such as the strawberry. In many of the larger cities where competition is encountered with berries from distant producing areas, the locally grown fruit brings a premium price and sells rapidly.

The acreage of strawberries grown for market in Pennsylvania has variety somewhat year after year, but there has been no definite upward or downward trend for the period of 1924-1935. The average for the period was 3,080 acres, with a minimum of 2,670 acres in 1931 and a maximum of 3,260 acres in 1927.

Production has been naturally more irregular, since it has been somewhat dependent upon seasonal soil moisture conditions, particularly during the harvest season and just previous to that time. Production for market has ranged from 3,720,000 quarts in 1925 to 8,350,000 quarts in 1928. The average for the period has been 6,162,000 quarts.

In estimated population Pennsylvania has shown a steady increase from 9,120,113 in 1924 to 10,066,000 in 1935.

CAPON PRODUCTION IS GROWING MORE POPULAR

Increased interest in capon production has been encouraged largely by the demand for roasting chickens during most of the year throughout Pennsylvania.

This demand, is especially noticeable from Thanksgiving to Easter. There usually is a scarcity of good roasting chickens during the period between New Year's Day and Easter.

Consistently earlier hatching of chicks has resulted in earlier marketing of layers, broilers, and roasters. With more birds removed from laying flocks and sold for meat during July, August, and September, there are fewer market birds available in October, November, and December. Because of this change in marketing of layers there is a tendency for the price of roasting chickens to advance during late fall and early winter.

Mid-season and late-hatched cockerels may be caponized and grown out to meet the demand. Low broiler prices in late season encourage producers to caponize cockerels and grow them for the fall and winter trade.

PREVENT BRUISING IN HANDLING APPLE CROP

"Hard knocks in the school of experience" are frequently referred to as a means of education but unfortunately the bumps that Pennsylvania apples take do not help them to get into the No. 1 grade.

The necessary precautions to minimize the bruising of apples during harvesting, packing, and storing are not being practiced by all growers. Bruises lower the grade, reduce keeping quality, and cut down financial returns.

Bruising is apparent during all stages of the harvesting, packing, and storing season. In many orchards the first bruising occurs during the picking operation, the second when the picking bag is emptied, and the third when the fruit is hauled to the packing shed and is dumped on the sizer. In many cases, rough handling during the grading and sizing operation causes additional bruises.

Fruit growers can save considerable loss by insisting that pickers use care in removing fruit from the trees and that they empty the picking baskets before they are filled to capacity. Sponge rubbers on the sizing machines prevent bruises. Since over-packing and rough handling in stacking baskets in the storage also causes bruising, improvement in these practices will save the fruit from damage.

A good slogan to put up in the packing shed is: "Handle apples carefully. When you bruise, we lose."

Youths Confess Killing Of Man At Indianapolis

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 1—Three youths, held here on murder charges, today confessed, according to police, that they fatally slugged 62 year old Charles McCoy in order to rob him of a dollar watch—a watch they later threw in a creek.

The trio, Lawrence Willoughby, 17, Robert Dwinell, 17 and Paul Eggers, 19, have admitted, police said, they beat up the aged McCoy outside of a tavern on August 14. The three youths were rounded up by police yesterday.

Dr. Pollock, Heading East, Makes Brief Stop In City

Dr. James K. Pollock, prominent University of Michigan professor, rested for three hours at his mother's East street home Thursday evening while enroute from Ann Arbor to Princeton, N. J., for a special conference there with eminent college presidents and journalists on a subject of vital concern to modern education.

Dr. Pollock was accompanied here by his four-year old daughter Ann, who remained to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Haun, 305 East Wallace avenue until his eastern mission is finished.

Dr. Pollock leaves Princeton Sunday for Ottawa, Canada, to be the personal guest of the governor general of Canada during a conference of civil service leaders from all over the United States and Canada.

The Michigan man said last night that the Princeton meeting of the National Policy Board, called by Richard Cleveland, son of the late president of the United States, will be attended by President Harold Willis Dodds, of Princeton university President Henry Dykstra, of the University of Wisconsin, Prof. Roger Lindsey, of Columbia university, Arthur Krock, of the New York Times, Dorothy Thompson, noted writer, George Fort Milton, Chattanooga, Tenn., newspaper publisher and others.

The group constitutes a non-political, non-partisan group for the study of a vital phase of governmental reorganization and its findings will be released to the public by Dr. Pollock, already designated its official reporter and press contact man.

After the Princeton session Dr. Pollock will go to Ottawa to meet with the Civil Service Assembly of the United States and Canada, which attracts technicians and commissioners in the civil service field from two countries.

He will return to Ann Arbor at the close of these meetings.

Dr. Pollock, the son of Mrs. Ella N. Pollock, is author of Michigan's newly enacted civil service law.

TENT HALL

Miss Eva Baird of Youngstown visited her father, T. W. Baird, Sunday.

Friends here of Dr. J. E. Vogan of Youngstown were sorry to hear of his death Friday from pneumonia. He was 76 years old and had practiced in Lowellville a number of years. Besides his wife he leaves a daughter Hilda and son Herbert.

Mrs. Clarence Campbell and daughter Peggy Jo spent Wednesday in Youngstown.

Mr. and Msr. Jess Korbin entertained a number of friends at a spaghetti dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McBride were Wednesday evening visitors at Ed Reed's in Mt. Jackson.

Miss Dorothy Bowshot of Struthers was a Sunday dinner guest at F. A. Montgomery's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reed and family of Mt. Jackson visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy McBride on Sunday.

Arrel Henley and children Helen Louise and Robert of North Lima visited Sunday at J. H. McBride's.

Mrs. Walter Graham will be hostess Thursday, October 7, to the Ladies Aid of Mahoning at her home.

John Korby received word Sunday that his mother, Mrs. Davidson, was badly hurt in an automobile accident, also Mrs. Mackey with whom she was riding. The car was driven by the latter's son, E. Mackey. He lost control of it and it crashed into a telephone pole.

Rev. A. G. Montgomery of Beaver, Pa., a former preacher at Mahoning, will occupy the pulpit Sunday evening at Mahoning.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Campbell attended a party Saturday evening a the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duffey in New Castle.

PREFERS JAIL TO FINE

SEATTLE, Wash.—Mrs. P. B. Peterson lost two days of her liberty, but she saved $1 and her self-respect, when found guilty of an assault charge in justice court. "I'm not guilty and will not pay a fine" she declared, when assessed that sum by Judge Guy Knott. When the money was not forthcoming, Judge Knott issued a bench warrant. Mrs. Peterson packed a lunch and her nightgown, and reported to the county jail, to serve out the fine and $5 costs at the rate of $3 per day.

HAILE SELASSIE SAID TO BE LOW IN FINANCES

(International News Service)

WELLESLEY, Mass.—Haile Selassie, deposed Emperor of Ethiopia, is practically without means, according to Dr. Malaku E. Bayen, cousin and personal physician of Selassie.

Dr. Bayen, speaking before the summer institute for social progress at Wellesley College said that although fanciful tales of great wealth taken from treasure vaults of Ethiopia have been told the Emperor has little of his once vast fortune left.

He further declared that the Ethiopian people have not given up the fight against the Italian aggression.

"Twenty million people will have to be exterminated before there will be any peace," concluded the doctor.

Judith Allen Asks Million

Wife Of Jack Doyle Wants Million In Alienation Of Affections Suit

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1.—The projected martial journey of Jack Doyle, the Irish aspirant to prize ring and singing fame, and Mrs. Delphine Dodge Goode, automobile heiress had stuck on a $1,000,000 snag today. Doyle's wife, Judith Allen, the actress, filed an alienation of affections suit for that amount against Mrs. Goode.

Just as Doyle and Mrs. Goode had, for the benefit of the public, straightened out several current rumors about their getting married as soon as both had secured divorces from their respective mates, Miss Allen entered the scene.

Sues Blonde

Through her attorney, S. S. Hahn, she sued the blonde heiress for the asserted theft of the singing fighter's love.

Miss Allen obtained an interlocutory divorce decree from Doyle last April 28, but, according to the complaint filed in superior court yesterday, Mrs. Goode waged a campaign to thwart all attempts at reconciliation before the divorce became final.

Through the complaint, Miss Allen charged that Mrs. Goode had offered Doyle "several hundred thousands dollars for the purpose of creating a life of luxury and gave him gifts amounting to thousands of dollars to entice him away."

This action, the complaint recited., persuaded Doyle to abandon his attempts to become reconciliated with Miss Allen and destroyed his love for her.

Aged Messenger Saves Payroll

Two Gunmen Pounce On 78-Year-Old Messenger Who Fights Back, But Is Beaten

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—Refusing to obey the commands of two gunmen, a 78-year-old messenger today saved his company's $1,392 payroll at the risk of his own life.

Ignoring the gangsters weapons, Charles Barnes refused to turn over the money to the highwaymen and, with a tight grip on the payroll, waded into the surprised thieves.

Although beaten to the ground and injured so severely that his condition required hospital treatment, Barnes saved the payroll and thus kept his record clean.

The thugs intercepted the aged messenger as he was about to deliver the $1,392 to the Philadelphia Vest Company plant in South Philadelphia shortly after he obtained the payroll from a center-city banking house.

Washington Students Hear Pastor Thursday; Enjoy Singers Today

The Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates, pastor of the Third U. P. church, spoke on his recent Holy Land sojourn experiences before the upper-grade students of George Washington junior-senior high school Thursday afternoon.

The address was educational and entertaining. He brought with him and explained objects and articles representing the different countries he visited.

Rev. Yeates was introduced by Arthur Walker of the Washington faculty, who conducted the assembly's devotionals.

This afternoon, in a regular school assembly, the Washington student body enjoyed a special program given by the Spiritual Jubilee Singers from the City Rescue Mission.

Medical School Wants Brain Of "Sleeping Beauty"

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 1—Several medical schools have made overtures to obtain the brain of Patricia Maguire, 31-year-old Oak Park girl, who lay in a coma for five years and seven months, before she died Tuesday night.

Dr. Eugene Traut, who attended the girl from the day she was stricken, said today however, that the organ will remain with medical authorities at the Presbyterian hospital here for several weeks.

Doctors by studying the organ hope to be able to find a solution to the baffling disease of lethargica encephalitis.

Miss Maguire will go to the grave tomorrow in the first new dress she has had in almost six years.

Dam Work Will Start Shortly

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The war department announced today construction of the Tionesta Dam on the Allegheny river, to protect the city of Pittsburgh from floods, would start shortly.

The department said it had been given satisfactory assurances by the state of Pennsylvania that all necessary lands would be provided without cost to the United States and that the government would be held free from all damage. This was a condition to federal construction of the dam.

Funds have been allotted and plans approved in final form.

China And France May Sign New Pact

Non-Aggression Pact Is Reported As Being In The Making

By JAMES R. YOUNG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Oct. 1.—China and France may shortly sign a non-aggression pact with terms similar to the recent sino-Soviet mutual assistance accord, Japanese reports from Shanghai said today.

Officials here expressed belief the hurried departure of Dimitry Bogomlov, Soviet ambassador to China, from Nanking en route to Moscow was closely linked to a suspected anti-Fascist front.

According to some Japanese quarters, this anti-Fascist bloc would include France, Soviet Russia and China, and might have far-reaching effects on the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Tokyo observers wondered whether the reports of the projected Sino-French agreement might hasten formation of an Italo-Japanese front against the communist international.

Such a tie-up might be similar to the German-Japanese accord against communism. The fact that reports of an Italo-Japanese agreement along these lines are under a censorship ban here was regarded as lending further credence to the idea.

If the Japanese government feared the reported agreement might line up a formidable array of power against Tokyo, a foreign office spokesman failed to give a hint of any apprehensions when he announced:

"We are determined to fight to the bitter end and until the Chinese drastically reconsider and alter this anti-Japanese policy. Japan is pursuing her set policy unswervingly and unflinchingly."

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Vandenberg Is Likely Choice

Wheeler Of Montana Is Talked Of As Choice Of Democrats In 1940

MANY OTHERS GIVEN MENTION

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan is a good bit talked of, as we know, as 1940's best Republican presidential bet. Indeed, it quite frequently is remarked that the G. O. P. has not anyone else who would do, at all.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana is increasingly talked of as Vandenberg's Democratic opponent.

It would not be an altogether illogical set-up.

LIBERALS CONTROL DEMOCRATS

The Democrats have fallen into the habit of being our radical party, or our ultra-liberal one, at least. Of course it still has its very conservative element, but liberals control its machinery and there is no prospect that the conservatives will be able to take it away from them; not by 1940, anyway.

And Wheeler, except on the supreme court enlargement issue, always has been away to the political and economic left.

He also is nominally a Democrat. Other "possibilities", like Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin and Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York, who have been Democratically suggested, never have been Democrats. Their ideas may be all right, but not their labels—and labels count like everything in party conventions.

Wheeler is Democratically o. k. True, he ran vice presidentially on the Progressive ticket in 1924, but he has lived that down. No one charges it against him any more.

G. O. P.'s PROBLEM

On the opposite side, the Republicans cannot afford to name nearly so decidedly conservative a candidate as the kind they have been nominating in the comparatively recent past.

Well, Vandenberg is a mild liberal.

His liberality is pretty mild, but maybe he has enough of it in his system to "get by" with voters who, though liberalish, want to stay Republicans, too. Rampant liberals probably would turn thumbs down on him, but doubtless he would pass muster with the not too vehement ones, such as himself—or even a little more so than he is, up to a certain point.

He should catch the conservatives also. He would not be quite conservative enough for them. Still, if he were the nearest to a conservative candidate on any ticket, what could they do but make the best of him?

VANDENBERG PREDICTED

I am not discussing the 1940 election. I am speaking only of possible nominees.

Vandenberg seems to me to be almost more than a Republican possibility—as a near-probability. I agree with those folk who ask (or imply), "Who else have the Republicans got?" Imagine Landon again! Or Hoover! Or Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon! Personally I always liked Representative Hamilton Fish of New York, but imagine him! Or, "Whom have you?"

In short, I predict Vandenberg. Not for election; for the G. O. P. nomination.

WHEELER DOUBTFUL

Wheeler has no such cinch.

I would not predict him. All I should say, as above, is that he is increasingly talked of.

Wheeler has his handicaps. It is not likely that the senator will have Rooseveltian backing in 1940. Even if the White House tenant chooses not to seek a third term for himself, he will have a lot to say concerning the Democrats' nominee two years hence.

And yet, who is against the Montana statesman—as possibilities?

La Follette or La Guardia? As previously remarked, they are not Democrats. Former Governor Paul V. McNutt of Indiana or Governors Frank Murphy or George H. Earle, respectively, of Michigan and Pennsylvania?

There is not much inspiration in these names, except perhaps locally. Anyway, not yet.

Or James A. Farley? No!

WHEELER'S ABILITY

Senator Wheeler has demonstrated leadership qualities.

Agree with him or not, he can head a cause.

He bulks large on the political horizon.

His oppasition to the supreme court enlargement plan has won for him, amazingly, a reputation as a reactionary. It is a ridiculous notion. A few years ago conservatives described him as a dangerous "red". I do not believe he ever was dangerous, but I do not think he has changed. And I've had many interviews with him.

For myself, I think I should call him a radical, but safe, in most spots.

I would not mind voting, as between Vandenberg and Wheeler. I should consider either one a good president—as times dictate.

Who can guess as to the times' requirements?

Only private killing is a crime. You see, the killer in uniform is doing it for use and that makes it noble.

Grade Crossings Reing Removed

Pennsylvania Is Making Good Progress Along This Safety Line

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 1—Pennsylvania is stepping along rapidly in making highways safe by eliminating and improving grade crossings with emergency funds for that purpose provided by the federal government.

President Roosevelt allotted $11,483,613 to the Keystone State for such safety work. On September first a balance of only $286,575 remained unobligated. The bulk of the apportionment had been spent or obligated by projects under way.

Up to the first of the month, 69 such projects had been completed in Pennsylvania at a cost of $3,872,046. Of this, $3,512,325 came from federal funds. Forty- six of the completed projects represented grade crossing, eliminations, 14 were reconstruction of grade crossing structures, and nine were protection of crossings through signal devices.

In addition, 45 projects were under construction estimated to cost $8,053,908 and four others had been approved at an estimated cost of $150,000

Community Service At Mahoning Church

Rev. A. G. Montgomery, former minister at the Mahoning U. P. church, will be the guest speaker on Sunday night at the Mahoning Community service. Rev. Montgomery now has a circuit of three churches near Beaver, Pa. The vested choir of the church will present special music for this 8 o'clock service.

Rev. Orville L. Kuhn, minister of the Mahoning church, speaks Sunday morning on the subject, "Why the Cupboard Was Bare," this service is at 10:30 o'clock. The young people will meet in their room in the church at 7:15 p. m. with John Korby, Jr., as the leader.

Ideal Wardrobe For College Girl Would Be Large

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 1.—A coed's ideal wardrobe would be large and expensive, according to the desires of the average Westminster College girl, but actual statistics indicate that girls ride, walk, go to classes, date and go to occasional dances on less than the so-called "ideal wardrobe."

The ideal wardrobe, however would, for classes, consist of cashmere sweaters, custom-tailored suits, calots to match every outfit, dozens of highly-colored kerchiefs, Angora anklets, jerkins, suede vests, charm bracelets and reversible gabardine raincoats.

For dating the coeds want dresses with swing skirts made of velveteen or some other "ritzy" material, accessories to match every outfit, trickily veiled hats, individual costume jewelry, sheerest hosiery and French perfume.

For dances, full-length velvet wraps, ultra bags with plenty of gadgets, several slinky evening gowns (with someone willing to send corsages to wear on them), glittery hair ornaments, and lace-toed stockings.

Of course, a fur coat or two would be tops on any coeds list, followed closely by such odds and ends as riding clothes, fur-trimmed winter suits, hand-made shoes, and other knicknacks.

Its the old story again. The girls dont want much, do they?

ZION NOTES

Trick Waiter Amuses London

Frank Libuse, Who Does Everything Backwards, Has London Atitter

NIGHT CLUB VET IS BACK AGAIN

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Thoughts while strolling: Outsiders walked off with the two most famous glamour girls—Tallulah Bankhead and Miriam Hopkins. No one can out-smirk Milton Berle. Alfred P. Sloane is a ringer for Connie Mack 30 years ago. Brief cases have gone the way of the walking stick.

O. O. McIntyre

Guess for the next Republican presidential nominee: Senator Vandenberg of Michigan. Add genuine dog lovers: Gabriel Heatter, the ace radio commentator. Swell philosophy: My grandmother used to say "It wasn't even raining when Noah built the ark." Married and pals: Bugs Baer and the Mrs.

When there's better publicity in Hollywood, Samuel Goldwyn will get it. For the modern historian: The Waldorf has the only bar in the city exclusively for men. Paradox: The shyest and least talkative of all radio artists away from the "mike" is Gracie Allen, bless her.

Rhyme: Damon Runyon is certainly a glum 'un. For that come-hither look, my vote still goes to Joan Crawford. What's bcome of Earl Carroll's brother Jim? Buff Cobb could pass for Alice Brady of ten years ago. Radio voices alike: Raymond G. Swing and Alexander Woollcott.

For a bushy hair contest: Jay C. Flippen and Jim Tully. Bradshaw Crandall, who paints those pretty magazine cover girls and never had an art lesson. What a gift! Neat trick if you can do it: Passing the Empire Tower, stop suddenly, glance to the top and walk on without swaying.

London night crowds have been in high giggies over the antics of Frank Libuse, the trick waiter who does everything cock eyed. He first appeared in Vincent Lopez's night club several years ago and later featured at banquets. A sad-faced fellow, he stands at the entrance and from the start does everything wrong. He shows guests to the wrong table, hands them menus upside down and pulls up a chair from a nearby table to sit while taking their order. Sometimes angry patrons chase him around the room. But in the end they realize it is good fun and enjoy watching the next victim.

The most battle-scarred veteran of the night clubs in New York, Paris and London is Belle Livingston, now in her 60's, who is planning another invasion of the bottle-fronts. She had a brief jet of speakeasy prosperity during the latter days of prohibition, when her private residence grotto was one of the spots of the town's spenders. But after several raids her career zig-zagged in the manner of a runaway seismograph. Now she is going to have another try.

I met Belle in a red plush, lump gilt and mirrory Left Bank bistro called The Chicago Inn on the avenue de la Bordonnais, long before she came to America. She was then well known to all the night life crowd, especially around Harry's Bar. And equally known to the night haunts of London. Ray Long had her write some of her experiences in the Cosmopolitan and thus spread her fame in America. Kansas born, she immediately came home and cashed in on her sudden celebrity.

Abel Green's personal correspondence is couched in the same style as his articles in Variety. Pictures are "pix," and so on through his entire slangy lexicon. All agree he writes with vigour and some of his essays in Esquire are tops in mirroring the Broadway scene as is. Those meeting him first time expect to find a hard-boiled out-of-the-side-of-the-mouth talker with vitriol in his words. Instead, they find a soft-spoken precisionist, one whose phrasing has a professional gloss, and with it all a shyness that often burgeons into a blush. He was hand-picked and tutored by Sime, and when Sime's self-effacing son Sid took over the Variety reins he gave Green full headway. They have proved an excellent combination.

It strikes me most of us about ripe for the ether cone should go in a little more for quartetting now and then. During a rain the other afternoon I joined a group of roysterers who were running through some old songs. It was my first burst of harmony since a moonlighty night on Miami Beach about ten years ago, with Kin Hubbard handling the lead, George Ade the bass, Frank Shutts the tenor, while I attended to the discords. Unless we forget the rent once in awhile and put on a paper hat our faces get too long.

State College To Be Scene Of Retail Conference

State Secretary Of Labor Bashore Featured Speaker On Two Day Program

STATE COLLEGE, Oct. 1—State secretary of labor Ralph M. Bashore will be the featured speaker at the seventh annual retail conference to be held here next Tuesday and Wednesday. He will discuss the states' new 44-hour work week and will explain its provisions.

Merchants representing virtually every branch of retailing in the state will be in attendance.

Others who will speak at the conference will include C. S. Wyand, instructor in economics at the college; Samuel A. Hamilton, of the William F. Gable Co., of Altoona; Charles Bear, Jr., of York; E. C. Hertzler of Lancaster; George F. Young, of McKeesport and Joseph D. Zenker of New York City.

DR. R. N. MONTGOMERY HEADS SYNOD OF OHIO

President Robert N. Montgomery of Muskingum college, brother of Mrs. John J. McIlvaine of New Castle, has been elected moderator of the United Presbyterian synod of Ohio. The synod represents 15,000 United Presbyterian church members in Ohio, West Virginia and Michigan. Their 76th annual session was held at New Concord.

Rev. Henry S. Evans of the U. P. New Concord church, was chosen vice moderator.

Dr. Montgomery succeded his father as president of Muskingum in 1932. At the time of his death in 1932, Dr. J. Knox Montgomery, Sr., was moderator of the General U. P. Assembly.

Let's see. Diplomats aren't telling the truth and Satan is the father of liars. Is that old boy taking charge again?

Musical Comedy To Be Presented

New Wilmington High School Pupils Prepare For November Event

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 1.—Announcement was made today by Elizabeth Rose McCrumb, musical director at New Wilmington high school, that a musical comedy entitled "And It Rained," will be presented by the high school music department in the Community House Friday, November 12.

The production will be under the direction of Elizabeth Rose McCrumb who announces that parts have been assigned and that rehearsals will begin the first of October.

Ruth Phillips, dancing teacher, will be in charge of the dances in the production and these include a chorus of tap dancers; victory dancers; tango; waltz clog; Indian and an eccentric dance by four boys.

The leading parts have been given to the following students:

James McLaughry, Beth McLaughry, David Sewall, Charlotte Davis, Ruth Nevin, Robert Washabaugh, Robert Newton, Edward Freeman, Raymond Sharp, Robert Johns, and John White. Helen Francis will be accompanist for the production.

The fingernail or fine edge of a knife will remove many surface spots from the fine suedes. The nap can then be brushed up afterward. A damp rag will also do the trick. All cleaning fluids used on fabrics are not applicable to suedes.

The following flowers are favorable of long standing and are suitable for an old-fashioned garden: Columbine, English daisy, Canterbury bells, lily-of-the-valley, bleeding heart, clove pink, sweet William, lemon lily, German iris, lavender, peony, tiger lily, sweet rocket, evening primrose, pansy, cosmos, nasturtium, foxglove, heliotrope.

"dont reach twice for soap flakes · reach once for Climalene"

"Ever have that experience? Ever find even two or three sprinklings of soap flakes failed to produce that rich, creamy suds every woman knows is essential to white clothes and sparkling dishes?

There's a reason for that... the old story of hard water and grease that won't come off!

Grease, science says, is the basis of all dirt! Grease is the stubborn foe that water and even repeated use of soap can't budge. My grocer told me about that. He also told me about CLIMALENE, the wonderfully quick, safe, grease-cutting cleanser.

I tried CLIMALENE . . . sprinkled a tablespoon or so in my cleaning water!

It did cut the grease. It removed the last trace of 'soap scum' from my dishwashing!

No reaching twice for soap flakes now. I just sprinkle them in once . . . after CLIMALENE . . . and use only ½ as much!"

WON'T YOUR YOUNGSTERS LOVE THEM!

SCHOOLDAY COOKIES

2⅔ cup Spry
2¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon soda
1½ cups brown sugar, firmly packed
2 eggs, well beaten
3½ cups sifted flour
¼ cup milk
½ cup figs, chopped
½ cup raisins, cut

Combine Spry, salt, spices and soda and blend. Add sugar gradually and cream well. (Done in a twinkling with triple-creamed Spry!) Add beaten eggs and mix well. Add ⅓ of flour, then milk, then remaining flour and chopped fruit, mixing well after each addition. Drop from tip of teaspoon on baking sheets greased with Spry. (So much easier than having to roll and cut out.) Sprinkle with sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 10 to 15 minutes. Makes 4 dozen—but they won't last long! Remember, only Spry can give perfect results in this recipe.

(All measurements in this recipe are level)

Do ALL your baking this NEW EASY WAY

USE Spry for cakes, pastry, muffins, biscuits, everything. You'll say it's the creamiest shortening you ever used. Cakes are mixed in half the time and they're doubly delicious, so light, fine, velvety. You'll love Spry pastry, too, and Spry-fried foods, so crispy and digestible a child can eat them. Spry stays fresh indefinitely without refrigeration. So buy the 3-lb. can. You save money!

NEW CASTLE HIGH AT BEAVER FALLS

"Red Hurricane" Ready For Fourth Game Of 1937 Season Tonight

Sovesky Only Veteran In Backfield, Game To Start At 8 O'Clock

New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team will go down to Beaver Falls tonight to play the Beaver Falls Tigers in the fourth game of the current season. The game will be played at Reeves Stadium under the lights and will start at 8 o'clock.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh and his football party of about 30 young huskies entrained this evening at 5:45 o'clock from the stadium by bus for the scene of the battle. Also in the party was Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, Assistant Coaches Thomas, Klee and Cuba and Custodian of Equipment Robert "Bob" Stewart.

Rookies Get Chance

The New Castle team goes to the valley tonight to seek to vindicate themselves for the defeat suffered last week at the hands of the Youngstown East High team. But, with a backfield containing only one tried and true veteran, Eddie Sovesky, the outlook is none too good.

Bridenbaugh will probably start Lauro in the fullbacking spot. The halves will be Sovesky and either Micaletti or Mumeyak. The blocking half will be Gender more than likely.

A long signal drill ended the week's workout last night under the arcs at Taggart Field. The line is all set. It will be the same as last week. The Tigers will find a staunch wall to penetrate. If they score it will be through the other waves. All week long however, Bridenbaugh has worked the boys on pass defense, and believes that if the Tigers get away with many passes tonight that they will have to be of the very very tricky sort.

BASEBALL PLAYERS ROBBED

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 1. — While the Columbus team of the American Association was winning the second game of the "Little World Series" here last night, members of the team were robbed of valuables worth $1,000, it was revealed early today. A sneak thief broke into a trunk in the clubhouse.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Rosalind was the feature horse of the Grand circuit racing yesterday at Lexington, having equalled and bettered some marks. Her three heats in the 2:02, 2 minutes flat and 1:59¼, deadlocked Greyhound's time for a three heat race made last year at Goshen. The second heat equalled the world record for a 4-year old filly held jointly by Miss Bertha Hanover, Tara and Calumet Evelyn. Rosalind's time for the final heat gave her a clear title. She was driven by Ben White. In the 2:18 trot, Madge Direct took the last two heats after bowing to Justified in the first. The same applied to Little Pat in the free-for-all after Dominion Grattan captured the opening heat. Friscomite took the first two heats in the 2:13 trot and Streamline captured the last.

All Networks To Broadcast Series

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—All radio networks will be permitted to broadcast the world's series, it was learned here today following a meeting yesterday between Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis and representatives of the Columbia, National and Mutual chains.

The broadcasts, it was indicated, will be made available to any station, which desires them, providing that station is ready to pay for the special facilities involved.

The decision for a wide open broadcast was made because no advertiser sought exclusive broadcasting rights at the price asked, which was said to be $100,000.

Slippery Rock To Play Waynesburg

Coach Kerr Thompson Drives Teachers Eleven Through Hard Workouts

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Oct. 1.—The Green and White gridiron warriors at State Teachers college, Slippery Rock, are closing a week of extensive training in offensive work, and the team has matured into a better timed, more effective unit. The last quarter, 7-0, defeat at West Chester last Friday night brought out the weaknesses in the Rocket team and the past week's practice has been aimed at correcting them.

Coach N. Kerr Thompson, in his twenty-second year as coach at Slippery Rock, is aiming primarily at the Waynesburg game on Saturday (Oct. 2), but the following week end will find the Slippery Rockets at Boston playing Boston university. Following this comes the homecoming day game with Westminster. Such games at the very start of a season are tough enough for any coach whose team gets only a little more than a week of practice before the first game.

In Fine Shape

The Slippery Rock squad is in excellent shape and although seven varsity men of lash year were lost, Coach Thompson can put a veteran team on the field. Numerous leg injuries suffered during practices have forced more than enough veterans to an inactive role on the side lines. However, when Waynesburg comes here Saturday, they will find a well-drilled and powerful Rocket team. The only inexperienced element is in the backfield where injuries have created an opening at the full post for a first year man, the 195-pounder "Babe" Denbow from Evans City. Kaufman, a fast back, may also get the call for a back post. "Bo" Meals, the rugged signal caller, and "Bull" Wingrove, a powerful guard, are the co-captains of the team and are sure starters.

At most of the other positions there is a choice of three or more veterans—at ends: Graham, VanHorn and Barnes; at tackle, Burby, Furman and Davis; at guard, Weible and Sample, and at center, Beckert. Other backs include Keown, Mort, Schmidt, Aikey, Swartz, Temple and Gross.

Croton Team Will Play South Hills

Rivals Will Battle On South Hills Field, Sunday Afternoon At 3

On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, two evenly matched football teams will meet in what promises to be an exciting tussle. The tilt will bring together the Croton Progressives and South Hills club on the South Hills field.

In order to bolster his lineup, Coach John Rubeis has signed the following gridders: Carl Kirkwood, 186 pound fullback, Newt Tanner, halfback, Charles Kirkwood, David Tanner, 160 pound linemen, John Pagley, 185 pound end, Sam Piccioni, 145 guard, Charles Lalley, end.

South Hills is reputed as having a fast club. Coach Rubeis and his assistants, P. Perrotta and Joe Malley, expect a victory. This tussle should serve as a tune-up for the Croton-Fannin game scheduled later.

W. & J. Football Player Missing

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—Michael J. Rosso, Pittsburgh, star halfback on the Washington and Jefferson College football squad, was reported missing Thursday.

Rosso disappeared from the Washington, Pa., campus after football practice Monday evening, W. F. Henry, athletic director, said. Members of the family said he had come home Tuesday but returned to college Tuesday night, Henry said he never reached there.

Westminster Opens Season Saturday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 1—Coach Washabaugh's Westminster Titans ended their final rough session Thursday in preparation for the Bethany game, October 2, when they scrimmaged for an hour, after a brisk warming-up session.

Using Milling, sophomore, and Pfau, Ohio freshman, at the ends; Susko, Ohio varsity linesman, and Mamula, Pittsburgh freshman, at the tackles; Youkers, Butler and Ruefle, Pittsburgh linesman, at the guards; Throup, Bessemer junior, at center; and Valicenti, Laposki, Shoup, and Wright in the backfield, the Titan varsity pushed over five touchdowns. The first-string scored twice on running plays and three times on the final play, after taking one of Shoup's aerial heaves.

McCune, Ligonier freshman and Black, Brentwood, both backfield candidates showed up well in the second-string backfield giving ample notice that they may crowd out several of the first string backs before the Bison encounter.

The Blue and White line provided its best blocking of the training season, as Susko, Mamula, Ruefle, Youkers, and Throup, ripped big holes in the second-string forward wall. Laposki, Valicenti, and Shoup drove through the line holes in midseason style, with Shoup wielding the big clubs in the running attacks.

This week will be spent polishing the running and passing plays with particular emphasis on the timing and coordination of both backs and linesmen. With all the men in excellent physical condition, Coaches Washabaugh and Kelleher expect to take a squad to Bethany, with every man able to go the entire 60 minutes if necessary.

Major College Elevens Ready For Grid Games

Minnesota To Meet Nebraska, Pitt Goes Against West Virginia

TECH TO MEET NEW YORK U.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1—Many of the football standard-bearers earnestly will settle down tomorrow to the start of tough campaigns, with a promising program of games slated as a follow-up to last week's openers, which brought out only a handful of contests of consequence.

Minnesota's powerful machine which is being mentioned at potential national champion plays a midwest feature against Nebraska after scoring a crushing defeat over North Dakota state last week.

Notre Dame will make its opening bid against Drake, in what the "fighting Irish" regard as a warmup; Northwestern tackles Iowa, Vanderbilt moves out against Chicago, and Ohio state, winner of last Saturday's outstanding interesectional tussle with Texas Christian, tackles Purdu, Michigan meets Michigan state and Wisconsin takes on Marquette.

Tech Vs. New York

Carnegie Tech against New York University, Manhattan against Texas A. and M., Cornell against Colgate, Pittsburgh against West Virginia, Army against Clemson, Colgate against Cornell and Boston College against Kansas State will be feature attractions in the East.

Harvard meets Springfield, Yale meets Maine and Princeton meets Virginia in opening games for the big three.

Bessemer High Is Ready For Ursuline Game

With 28 To 0 Defeat Of Hubbard On Record, Bessemer Is Confident

Bessemer high school football team is ready for the game Saturday afternoon that brings Ursuline high of Youngstown to the Bessemer high field. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Coaches Capezutto and Moore have driven the Bessemers hard this week. Ursuline high has a crackerjack outfit and may cause trouble for the Bessemers. Coach Capezutto is building his offensive attack around Shoup and Gallena.

Ursuline high has defeated Struthers high 13 to 6 this year, and has one of the finest Catholic teams in the city of Youngstown. Ursuline is out to take the measure of the Bessemerians.

The lineups of both teams:

W. & J. To Play Muskingum Team

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 1.—Although his team is blasted by last minute injuries, Coach George Roark, of the Washington and Jefferson Presidents, hopes to start his first year as chief grid mentor with a victory over the Muskingum college Muskies here Saturday.

The game Saturday, which will be the first for the Red and Black, and the second for the Muskies, who tripped Otterbein last week, is the second in the histories of the two schools. In 1915 the Prexies downed the Buckeye outfit 47-7.

Giants Cinch Pennant By Beating Phillies

Carl Hubbell Turns In 22nd Win As Giants Take Flag Again

Pirates Cinch Third Place By Defeating St. Louis Cards

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 1—National League pennant winners and participants, beginning next Wednesday, in an all-New York world series for the second straight year, the Giants today no longer were regarded as setups whose reward for a gallant battle through the season inevitably must be slaughter at the hands of the Yankees.

Carl Hubbell's performance yesterday against the Phillies in the triumph that ended a fight for the flag nearly as close as any in the history of the circuit answered the question as to whether he finally was slipping and brought a new surge of hope to Giant followers.

Earned Pennant

Moreover, the Giants did not back into the world series this time but fought for and earned the pennant, the third they have brought here in the five full years Bill Terry has managed the club and their 13th in the modern era beginning with the turn of the century.

Hubbell's victory yesterday was close to perfection, barely missing by the margin of Dolph Camilli's home run in the ninth with two down. The Giants southpaw standby allowed only five hits and fanned nine in beating the Phils by 2 to 1 in the first game of a double-header.

The Phils won the second game, 6 to 2 but by then defeats didn't matter. Most of the regulars were out of the lineup and in the clubhouse celebrating—over a case of soda pop—the championship victory and heaping congratulations on Hubbell, who besides pitching the flag-clincher, became the first major league to score 22 wins this season, his fifth 20-or-better season in a row.

Cubs Win Game

The Giants made only eight hits in the opener, but two were bunched in the first and two more in the third, and each time Johnny McCarthy came through with a fly to drive in a runner.

Meanwhile, the Cubs were losing the pennant quite as gallantly as the Giants were winning it, the former

New Castle Club Going To Detroit

Leo W. Hill, president of the New Castle Rifle Club announced today that the New Castle club members will go to Detroit, Mich., on Saturday night, October 9th for a match with the Michigan State champions, the Detroit Rifle Club.

It would be quite a feather in the caps of the locals if they can defeat the recognized champions of the state of Michigan. A discussion of the trip will be held tonight at the bi-weekly shoot.

It was also announced by Mr. Hill that the Ohio-Pennsylvania Rifle League will start next Friday night. There are several fine teams in this league.

Yankee Pitchers Shade Giants In Walsh's Opinion

Thinks Gomez, Ruffing, Hadley, Better Than Hubbell, Melton And Schumacher

Pitching May Play Quite Important Factor In Coming World's Series

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 1—Continuing this daily outburst and tirade in connection with an event that may yet become known as the world series of contradictions, we have with us today—the pitchers, those gents with funny looking pants who stand out there and generally can't do anything except practically decide any single series of games. They're like the man who stands in the wings and makes the curtain go up and down. You're never right when he isn't.

First, I'm going to give the Yankees' pitching somewhat the better of it—and then I'll start to take it away again. I'm certainly a big help. However, all I can say is that I didn't make this silly match.

Anynow, Ruffing held Washington to two hits on Tuesday and ought to be absolutely right for the series. Pearson held the same club to two runs on the same afternoon. Gomez looks like the best pitcher in the series. Hadley and Andrews are both going very well. That certainly makes everything just splendid, doesn't it?

Left Handers

Yes, it certainly does not. For the Yankees are sure to face left-hand pitching in four of the first five games and right now they can't hit that kind with a canoe paddle. Right now? How I do rattle and prattle along. They haven't been able to hit left handers all season. The winning average against them being a mere .570.

The general average against both kinds is currently .671. I'm no mathemetician; in fact, I'm working in my spare time on an idea for a vest pocket big enough to carry an adding machine, so I'll always be sure to get the right change out of a quarter.

Meanwhile, I think two Americans quoted above would give them a percentage of almost .800 against right handers—and this time they're not going to see many. They're going to keep on seeing Melton and Hubbell and, no matter what the Yanks claim in that connection, this pair is far superior to the left handers the Yankees have been folding before with ominous regularity during recent days.

In fact, they've had fifteen scoreless innings against rookie southpaws in the last two days. On Tuesday, for instance, Joe Krakauskas, just up from Trenton, fanned nine and held them scoreless through the final eight innings. They won the first game from the Athletics yesterday but, in the second, Edgar Smith shut them out with one hit in a curtailed seven-inning game.

Bill Terry To Get Back For Series Games

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Fears that Manager Bill Terry of the Giants might miss the world series, in which his team is expected to clinch a place by nightfall, were dispelled today by club officials, who said he rapidly was recovering from an attack of influenza.

"Terry's physician tells me he should be up and about over the week-end," Vice President Leo J. Bondy of the Giants said. "We feel no alarm whatever."

Coach Frank Snyder has been in charge of the team since Terry was stricken last week.

One Giant victory is all that is needed to bring about a second straight Yankee-Giant "subway" series starting next Wednesday.

beating the Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 1. The champions led the three games at the conclusion of the day's work.

The Cubs, with second place clinched, moved to St. Louis for a series with the Cardinals through the season's end on Sunday. The Giants returned home to windup against the Dodgers.

Expect Terry Back

Terry is expected to resume command of the Giants for the Sabbath final, after a week's absence due to illness, during which time coach Frank Synder has been in charge of the club.

Although he wasn't in at the finish, Terry was being given full credit today for the Giants' victory and more enthusiastic rooters had begun to compare him to the late John McGraw, whom he succeeded in mid-season of 1932, when the Giants were in last place.

Under Terry's leadership, the Giants finished first in 1933, second in 1934, third in 1935 and first the last two years straight.

Pirates Trim Cards

While the Giants' pennant victory overshadowed everything else along the baseball front yesterday, equally earnest battles were being waged elsewhere.

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 to 3, to virtually clinch third place behind the Cubs and shove the Cards down into fourth place, and the Brooklyn Dodgers slipped to within a half game of the seventh-place Phillies by losing their 13th and 14th straight to the Boston Bees, 5 to 2 and 3 to 2.

The Reds' defeat at the hands of the Cubs was their 10th straight and clinched the cellar for them.

In the American League, the Yankees still were 13 games in front although they dropped their first double-header of the year, the Philadelphia Athletics winning 8 to 3, and 6 to 3.

The Detroit Tigers clinched second place, although they lost to the St. Louis Browns, 10 to 3, the Chicago White Sox dropping out as contenders by losing to Cleveland Indians, 6 to 4 and 4 to 1, Bob Feller hurling the latter win and fanning eleven. The Washington Senators beat the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 3, then lost the nightcap, 9 to 3.

A noted child specialist, Dr. Max Cohen, believes babies should not wear shoes until they have learned to walk. "Because a baby's foot bones are soft, shoes can easily misform the feet," he told a recent scientific meeting.

Veteran Picks Yanks To Win

Fred "Goldie" Goldsmith, 87, First Curve Ball Hurler, Likes Yankees

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 1—Fred (Goldie) Goldsmith, the first man ever to throw a curve ball and one of only two survivors of what amounted to the first world series more than a half century ago, today picked the Yankees to win another world title.

The 87 year old right-hander who was in his heyday with Pop Anson's Chicago White stockings of the 70's and 80's thinks the Yankees have too much power and pitching—for any club of these times.

"But what I'd really like to see" he said, "would be a series between the Yankees and those teams of ours under Anson. Every man on those teams weighed better than 190 pounds, and every one of them was a great athlete besides being a great ball player.

Anson Greatest

"Don't forget Pop Anson was the greater hitter that ever lived, and I don't think many has ever been able to throw a ball harder or with more stuff on it than I could, and every one of us could hit and run and field. We'd make the Yankees step and don't forget it."

A resident of Ortonville, Mich., the old star of the days when top salaries—his for instance—were $300 a month, still is an ardent fan and a follower of the Detroit Tigers.

He admitted he didn't know much about the national league, except that Dizzy Dean and Carl Hubbell are just about as good as any pitchers he had ever seen. He gives Dean an edge.

More hand-finishing goes into the tailored suits for the coming season. The braid-finish formal tailleur is cut with a longer, slightly roomier jacket. Action backs, too, are very popular.

Nonpareil Members Plan To Qualify

The members of the Nonpareil Club will stage a high-powered army qualification shoot at the East Brook range on Saturday afternoon. The shoot will start shortly after noon and last until dark. All members who expect to qualify are asked to be present. Announcement was made by Karl Rohrer today.

Conn Defeats Teddy Yarosz

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1—Billy Conn today held his second victory verdict over a dejected Teddy Yarosz who once wore the middleweight crown. After trailing most of the way, Conn lashed out with a terrific body attack in the 13th round and copped the decision at the end of 15.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

Throughout the country we have what is called National Newspaper Boys Week . . . this week is the week set aside for that celebration . . . may we call your attention to your newspaper boy . . . Do you know he is the youngest business man in New Castle . . . he is his own boss and let me tell you they are the most honest bunch of boys you can find . . . six days in every week they come to your house with a paper and a smile . . . they are proud of their job and I know you are proud of them.

Due to some unintentional carelessness we find it necessary to call your attention to the fact that it is vitally important that you pay these boys promptly . . . without your payments they cannot do business . . . their business is run the same as any other . . . you know as well as this column that if anyone charged and neglected to pay when agreed, any business regardless of size would crumble . . . remember the newspaper boy has a small business . . . so please help by paying up.

Talking about crooning . . . when you turn on the radio that is all you hear . . . but when you talk over the phone you don't expect to hear such things . . . so you can imagine the surprise when the boys affiliated with Fred Welker heard him crooning over the phone . . . we suppose to some sweet young thing . . . Major Bowes is looking for you Fred.

Judge Hugo L. Black of the KKK will make a speech tonight . . . we think it very inconsiderate of Mr. Black to speak tonight . . . doesn't he know we have a football game . . . the least he could do was ask if we were busy here in New Castle.

A little boy who flits through the air sends in his application for the A. F. of B. . . . William H. Ice . . . you are a member Willy . . . are there any others . . . it will pay you to join.

Don't forget to read the classified ad page every day . . . you young married folks can save loads of money by reading this page . . . ask the couple that have been reading the page regularly.

THE CLASSIFIED ADS ARE CHEAPER!

Stock Market Is Irregular

Trading Is Quiet And Market Thin During Morning's Transactions

By LESLIE GOULD

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The stock market turned down after early improvement today. Gains running to more than a point were wiped out in most cases and losses of one to more than two points substituted. Trading was quiet and the market thin.

Steels scored early gains running to around a point each in U. S. Steel, Republic and Bethlehem, but turned down easily. U. S. Steel broke 80 for a loss of more than a point.

Coppers bucked the reaction, aided by the firmer price situation. Anaconda was a point higher most of the time. International Nickel was a laggard exception.

Most rails gave ground, Atchison and Union Pacific losing a point each after starting higher. Deere rose over a point in the farm implements and then worked lower. Case Threshing lost two and International Harvester almost as much.

Loew's fell over two in the amusements, and Douglas more than a point in the aviations. American Telephone and Johns-Manville were down around two each. Utilities gave ground led by Consolidated Edison, and oils were heavy. Mail orders declined with the rest.

Commodities other than copper were mixed. Tin and lead eased in the metals. Wheat and rubber were higher and corn lower. Cotton was quiet and steady.

The bond market showed a firm tone. Communications added to recent gains while U. S. issues were quiet.

Ellwood High Meets Rochester Saturday On Rochester Field

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1—Dame Fortune's daughter, Miss Fortune, who always stalks football teams, caught-up with Ellwood City high school gridders. On the eve of their first out-of-town game, which occurs at Rochester Saturday afternoon, it looks as though four regular places may be filled with substitutes.

Andy Fehl, left wingman emerged from last week's fray with a sprained ankle that will likely keep him out out tomorrow's game. Joe Taylor has been primed to fill his prosition. An attack of "Charley-horse" has the number of Nick Gib, right guard and Lester Biggins will likely get the nod from that berth.

An old knee injury continues to trouble Frank Blaine, right end, and again this week Joe Cook will take his place. In last Saturday game, Frank Koalch right half one of the day's stars, sustained a shoulder injury will probably keep him on the sidelines tomorrow. Walter Bieago, his capable understudy, will be in the starting line-up.

Despite this handicap, the Wolverines are determined to make Rochester their fourth consecutive victory. In past years, Rochester has been a "Waterloo" for the local elevens, but the blue and white and their fans are confident that they can put Rochester's blue and white gridders in their own black-ink column this year. If the locals are victorious, it will mark the third time this season that Coach Ernie Meyer's Rochesterites, have had to dip into the red ink to mark their records.

While the Croft-Gills machine has three victories, over Wesleyville, Monaca and Wellsville, safely tucked away, the Rochester outfit lost their opener to Aliquippa by a score of 14 to 7, and their second contest to the Midland Crucibles being on the short end of a 25-7 score.

It must be remembered in their opening game that they held the powerful Lippe machine scoreless in the first half and held them to two tallies in the final quarters. Air raids, seemingly the order of the day, were successfully used by the Midland team, for three touchdowns leaving a baffled Junction City outfit in their wake. This is the largest team, in regard to size and weight that the locals, will have encountered so far this season.

The kick-off is scheduled for 2:30.

Ellwood City		Rochester
Taylor	L E	Jersey

Banquet Honors Legion League Ball Players

Successful Event Held Last Evening In United Presbyterian Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1.—Seventy-five members of the five teams of the American Legion Junior baseball league sponsored by the local J. Wilbur Randolph post were guests at a banquet held in their honor on Thursday evening, in the United Presbyterian church dining room.

The league was composed of the following teams: Elks, American Legion, Merchants, Manos and Clover Farm. One hundred friends of the teams attended the banquet that proved to be a most outstanding success.

Not the least of the contributing factors to the success of the event was the delectable menu served by a group of the ladies of the church.

"Pie" Traynor, Honus Wagner and Paul Waner, of the Pittsburgh Pirates, had been scheduled as the guest speakers but at the eleventh hour cancelled their engagement. Despite the sudden change of plans, the affair proved to be most successful and enjoyable for everyone attending.

The committee immediately secured Madame Hudspath, a mind reader, and she entertained the group in an amusing manner for a period. Miss Alice Shirley contributing a humorous reading.

"Denny" Schill was the toastmaster and filled the role in his usual capable manner. Hugh Holliday, post commander spoke briefly as did the managers of the team, Elmer Greenham, post chairman of the league, and Charles Cox.

The Elks team was the winners in the league and they were honored recently at a banquet given by their sponsors and presented their trophies. Last evening, the Manos team, runners-up in the league, and the Merchants team, who won the consolation series, were presented with silver baseballs and the team managers were presented with gold baseballs.

A full measure of credit is due the following committee, Elmer Greenham, Robert Taylor and Carl Shirley, who made the arrangements for the successful affair.

Former Resident Instantly Killed

Mrs. Grace McCaskey Maroney Killed In Accident While Enroute To Texas

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1.—A former Ellwood City woman, Mrs. Grace McCaskey Maroney, of Akron, O., was instantly killed on Saturday morning in an automobile accident at Prescott, Ark. She was enroute to Texas where she planned to spend the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hertzog and family.

The accident occurred when the Hertzog car ran into a terrific storm and the car went over the embankment, instantly killing Mrs. Maroney and painfully injuring Mr. Hertzog.

Mrs. Maroney was the daughter of the late J. L. and Caroline Schweinsberg McCaskey, well-known former resident of this city.

She is a sister of Mrs. J. O. Swick, of Frisco and an aunt of Clair Smith, of this city. Her husband and five other sisters also survive.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday from the late home at Akron and interment made in that city.

Hazel Dell WCTU Installs Officers

Tureen Supper Features Meet At The Home Of Mrs. Ida Cunningham

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Ida Cunningham received members of the Hazel Dell W. C. T. U. in a hospitable manner on Thursday evening at her home, in Orchard avenue, for the September meeting.

Twenty members and three guests, Rev. and Mrs. Gene Sterner and Mrs. Lloyd Stevenson, attended.

A tureen supper was enjoyed at 6 o'clock featuring colorful Hallowe'en appointments.

Mrs. Zena Stevenson and Mrs. Matilda McFate participated in the devotional service and Rev. Sterner gave an interesting talk on the Christian part of the W. C. T. U., after which he conducted impressive installation services for the new officers.

Mrs. Vera Cook was named delegate to attend the state convention to be held in Greensburg on October 14.

On Thursday evening, October 19, the next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Cook of 629 Hazel avenue.

Mrs. F. Powell Pleasing Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1.—Members of the Electa club were entertained in a charming manner on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Forrest Powell, of Line avenue, for the semi-monthly meeting.

Mrs. Warren Hockenberry was awarded the prize for cards with two tables of 500 in play during the evening. Mrs. Stanley Evans assisted the hostess in serving a delicious luncheon.

For the next meeting on Thursday evening, October 14, Mrs. Joseph Smith, of Glen avenue, will be hostess.

To Reorganize Hospital Board

Call Meeting Of Stockholders For Tuesday Evening, October 26

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1.—H. R. Smith, chairman, H. N. Wasser and H. R. Johnson, of the Ellwood City hospital reorganization committee, have mailed out the following communication to the stockholders:

"You are no doubt familiar with the proposal to amend the charter of Ellwood City hospital, a non-profit corporation under the laws of Pennsylvania, by providing for membership on an annual basis upon payment of annual dues, instead of continuing to operate on a stock basis.

"To assist in accomplishing this purpose, a meeting of stockholders has been called for Tuesday evening, October 26, 1937, to be held in the large assembly room of the new Municipal building, at which the proposal will be voted on. It of course, will be necessary to have a majority of the stockholders represented in person or by proxy at this meeting, and we wish therefore to emphasize the importance of your cooperation in the matter. If you are unable to attend this meeting, it is requested that you sign the enclosed approval-proxy and return it within five (5) days, in self addressed postage paid envelope enclosed herewith for that purpose.

"The reason for this move is that since its organization, the control and management of the hospital has been vested in the stockholders, and since its organization stock in the hospital corporation has become widely scattered, much of it in decedents' estates, and much of it held by persons no longer resident in and about Ellwood City.

"Since the hospital is a purely local institution serving our local community, it is believed by the board of directors and other persons interested that its service to the community can be improved by placing its control and management in the hands of active local people.

"One result of the present set-up has been that through apparent disinterest and failure to attend meetings on the part of stockholders, full responsibility for the financing and conduct of the affairs of the hospital has had to be assumed by the board of directors, who have continued to serve year in and year out and to carry this responsibility without an annual election of directors on the part of stockholders. The hospital has been fortunate in having an able and responsible body of men to serve as directors, but it is possible that a time may come when these men will no longer be available and through lack of an active membership organization the hospital will suffer.

"It is for these two reasons, then, that the proposed action is desired to be taken, viz., first, that the people who are served by the hospital, that is, the residents of Ellwood City and vicinity, should have a voice in its operation and control, and second, that for the welfare of the institution itself an active and vigorous membership must be built up.

"It is proposed under the plan of reorganization that each stockholder shall automatically become a member of the proposed hospital association, until the end of the hospital fiscal year May 31, 1938."

Harry A. Rankin Named Commander Of 26th District

Retiring Commander Of V. F. W. Post Honored By State Appointment

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1.—Harry A. Rankin, retiring commander of Ellwood City V. F. W. post, No. 252, has been appointed commander and deputy inspector of the 26th district of Pennsylvania comprising Lawrence and Mercer counties.

This is a distinctive honor to Mr. Rankin and an added honor to the local post.

Notification of the appointment was received this morning by V. F. W. officials from the Harrisburg headquarters. John V. Horan of Philadelphia, newly elected state commander, made the appointment.

Members of the local post are pubilant over the appointment and feel that it is a distinguished recognition of their progressive organization in this city.

O. N. T. Members At Ifft Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1.—Members of the O. N. T. club were guests of Mrs. L. G. Ifft, of Line avenue, last evening for their regular meeting. Mrs. Emma Gillespie was a special guest.

Two tables of 500 occupied the group's attention with prizes going to Mrs. Earl Duncan, Mrs. R. L. White and Mrs. C. E. Anderson and a guest prize to Mrs. Gillespie. Aided by Mrs. F. D. Fredley, the hostess served a most delicious repast.

For the next meeting, on Thursday, October 14, the group will motor to the home of Mrs. Ray Mains, of Westview.

Miss Elma Miller Has Wiener Roast

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1.—A group of young people were entertained in a pleasing manner Wednesday at the home of Miss Elma Miller, of Pleasant Hill.

Group games and contests occupied the attention of the guests until a late hour when they gathered about a glowing bonfire and enjoyed a savory wiener roast.

Pythian Sisters Have Tureen Supper

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1. — One of the delightful events of Thursday evening was a tureen supper and card party held by members of the Pythian Sisters lodge in the V. F. W. hall on Fourth street.

Fifty members and friends of the organization enjoyed the appetizing dinner served amidst attractive autumn decorations.

Mrs. Thelma Yoho and her aides were in charge of the affair.

Bingo and 500 filled the social hour with the prize for the former going to Mrs. George Patterson and for the latter to Mrs. Clyde Beeman and Mrs. George Miller.

For the regular meeting on Thursday evening, October 7, the grand chief, Mrs. Edith Macauley, of Sharon, will pay the local lodge an official visit.

Pleasant Event At Marion Farms

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1.—B. Y. F. club members and their husbands accepted the charming hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. William Goehring, of Marion Farms, and held a delightful gathering last evening at their lodge.

One long table was arranged before the cheery fireplace and a pretty arrangement of fruit, candles and autumn leaves added greatly to the setting.

After the appetizing dinner, the hours were spent informally with games and conversation providing the evening's merriment.

Special Guest At Rock Point Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1.—When members of the Rock Point club were entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edward Nye, of the Ellwood-Zelienopie road, Mrs. Roy McDanel, of Lilyville, was a special guest.

Quilting was the diversion of the afternoon with the hostess serving dainty refreshments.

Mrs. Alice Pappas invited the group to meet at her home, on the Ellwood-Wampum road, for the next meeting on Thursday, October 14.

PREPARATORY SERVICES

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1.—On Sunday morning, Presbyterian churches of the entire world will observe World-Wide Communion services.

Preparatory services for this event at the Slippery Rock Presbyterian will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Berger will deliver a sermon on the subject, "The Purpose of Communion."

The Duke of Windsor is still useful to England. When statesmen are enraged by Italy, they can get relief by taking another crack at him.

Reach Compromise In Farrell Mix-up

Night Game To Be Played On Thursday, October 21, It Is Announced

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 1.—Farrell high school officials have agreed to a slight compromise in regard to a football schedule mix-up with the Ellwood City high school officials, it is announced.

The night game will be played at Farrell on Thursday evening, October 21, instead of Friday evening, October 22.

Through an unfortunate oversight, discovered by Ellwood officials last April, a notation on Farrell's contract called for a return game on October 22, this year. The game last year was played about October 15 and this date was kept open for the Mercer countians.

Having released Farrell from a return game to this city in 1939, the local school requested the same favor of Farrell, and that being refused they asked to have the game changed until November 20, an open date for both school; however, Farrell would not consent to any concessions.

Midland high had already been given the date of October 23, corresponding with last year's arrangements.

While with the game moved ahead one day, the situation is far from ideal and one that is deplored by the Ellwood authorities, it will at least afford the Wolverines a one-day rest between the Farrell and Midland games.

There will be no school on Friday, October 22, as the teachers will attend the western district meeting of the P. S. E. A. and this will give the team a day of complete rest between the two contests.

Abundant-life finance: The government fixes the price of "dust bowl" land at $1.50 an acre. It has spent over $300,000,000, equal to $10 an acre, trying to save it.
